Sub Seawolf Gls See Sun After 60 Days

ABOARD U.S.S. SKYLARK (AP)—The atomic submarine Seawolf surfaced 15 miles south of Block Island at 11:45 a.m. (EDT) today, ending a record 60 days under water.

She foamed to the surface of Long Island Sound in calm seas for her 116-man crew's first contact with the earth's atmosphere since she submerged Aug. 7.

The hatches were open. Two or three men stepped out, breathed deeply and yawned.

The Seawolf's exploit may help to answer such questions as: Can man endure such an extended period without contact with the atmosphere? How long would he do so? Is it practical for a submarine to act as a semipermanent underwater missile launching station? What problems remain to be solved?

The answers could have impact on space travel as well as military planning.

How do men react to their fellows in such circumstances? Psychologists will be interested.

A parade and reception are planned after the welcoming ceremonies today.

The Seawolf is a home town product, put together in Groton at the General Dynamics Corp.'s Electric Boat Division as the nation's second-born nuclear-powered submarine.

After the ceremonies are over and a couple of months pass, the Seawolf has another big date. She goes into drydock in December to change her reactor system to that of pressurized water, like those of other atomic subs. She now uses a liquid sodium system and, endurance record or not, it isn't as effective.

4-County District Asked in Petition

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP)—A petition asking creation of a four-county conservancy sub district was on file today in Common Pleas Court.

Van Wert, Mercer, Paulding and Putnam counties would be in the sub district to the 15-county Maumee Watershed Conservancy District and would plan flood prevention and stream control programs jointly.

EIGHTH INNING
BRAVES: Hanebrink batted for Pizarro and fouled to Berra. Bruton singled. Schoendienst popped to Kubek. Richardson threw out Mathews.

YANKES: Carl Willey pitching for Milwaukee. Skowron struck out. McDougald struck out on 3-2 pitch. Kubek flied to Covington.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

NINTH INNING
BRAVES: Aaron struck out. Covington singled off glove of Kubek. Wise ran for Covington. Torre popped to McDougald. Crandall forced Wise at second. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

Elston Howard, who has been hitless in the World Series so far, went to left field today for the Yankees as the New Yorkers took on the Milwaukee Braves in the fifth game.

The Braves won three of the first four games and need only a victory today to end the best-of-seven series. If the Yankees win today, the sixth game will be played in Milwaukee Wednesday.

Howard, the Yankees leading hitter during the season, replaced Norm Siebern in the field. The young Siebern had his woes at the position Sunday, mishandling four fly balls that helped the Braves win 3-0.

Manager Casey Stengel sent Bob Turley, his ace right-handed pitcher to the mound while Manager Fred Haney of the Braves countered with Lew Burdette, who has beaten the Yankees four straight times. He also is right-handed.

Although the sun was shining brightly it was only 46 degrees as the Yankees came out for their batting practice. The weatherman would not register above the mid 50s during the game.

Haney went with the same batting order that routed Turley in the first inning of the second game.

Depositor Demands Look at Bank Book

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Citizens National Bank of Ironton has until Nov. 1 to tell the Ohio Supreme Court why a depositor, who claims the bank president embezzled $140,000, should not see its books.

Chauncey Shafer has asked the court in a mandamus action for an order to examine the bank's books and to see the report of a federal bank examiner.

Shafer claimed President William McGurk altered the books to cover the alleged irregularities during 1952-54 and that an examiner received a "gratuity or bribe" to prevent disclosures.

Little Rock Injunction Eyed

Federal Attorneys Appear in Court

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals took under advisement today a request for a permanent ban against transforming Little Rock high schools into private, all-white institutions.

The three-judge court gave no indication when it will make a ruling.

A hearing on a request by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) for an injunction lasted only about one hour.

A government attorney said a temporary restraining order against leasing of the Little Rock school buildings to a private corporation will remain in effect until the appeals court rules.

This is the newest action in the long struggle between the U.S. government, Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas, and that state's segregationist forces.

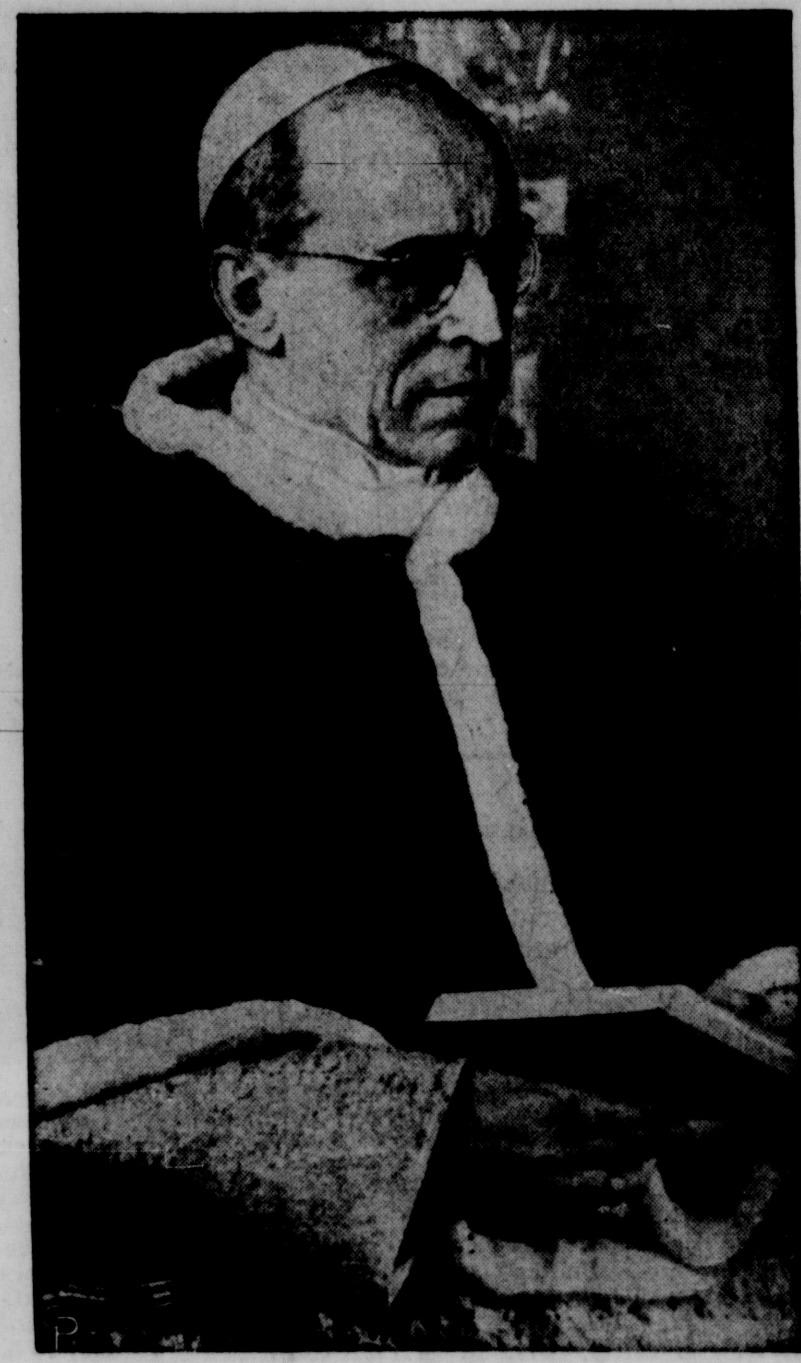

In a 25-page brief, U.S. attorneys emphasized two major points:

1. "The persistent and resourceful schemes which have been devised for evading the decrees of the federal courts enforcing those rights" (to go to public school).
2. "Little Rock has become the testing ground of the rule of law and the capacity of the judicial process to give real meaning and effect to constitutional rights."

They said if Central High in Little Rock is allowed to reopen on a segregated basis, "the harmful effects both to the children and to the country could in no way be undone by the courts."

The judges have been asked to make permanent a temporary order, issued by a federal court in Omaha last Monday, forbidding the leasing of Little Rock schools to a private organization which proposes to operate them, with state funds, as private, segregated schools.

Pending the result of today's hearing, the Little Rock Private School Corp. is going ahead, looking for money, teachers, and buildings. Dr. T. J. Raney, president of the corporation, says the private school system will open within the next few days if the Circuit Court hands down the permanent injunction today.

Pope Pius XII

Medic Says: 'All Is in Hands of God'

Aide Reports Slight Improvement, But Condition Is Grave

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP)—Pope Pius XII suffered a stroke today. The life of the 82-year-old pontiff hung in the balance at his summer residence here.

"All is in the hands of God," a physician reported from his bedside.

The Pope's great stamina, which brought him through a grave illness in 1954, asserted itself again.

Msgr. Angelo dell'Acqua, substitute secretary of state, visited the Pope a few hours after the stroke and reported a slight improvement in his condition. He emphasized, however, that his condition continued grave.

Informants at the press office in Vatican City said Extreme Unction, the church's last rites for the dying, had been given the Pope. Here at Castel Gandolfo Msgr. dell'Acqua said that to his knowledge Extreme Unction had not been given.

The Pope weakened suddenly during the night after showing improvement from an attack of gastritis, complicated by hiccups. The hiccups that had bothered him for several days vanished.

Then at 8:30 a.m. he suffered a circulatory cerebral attack, a bulletin from his physicians reported.

Unofficial sources said the Pope was paralyzed and could not be moved from his summer palace to Vatican City, where facilities for treatment are better.

Dr. Antonio Gasbarrini, a specialist from Bologna, was called to the Pope's bedside. This underscored the gravity of the condition of the spiritual ruler of nearly half a billion Catholics.

At about noon, according to unofficial reports, the Pope roused briefly from his coma, opened his eyes and murmured a few words.

The pontiff's immediate family, including his nephews and nieces, were ushered to an antechamber of the pontiff's bedroom.

This was the second serious illness in four years for the pontiff.

News of the latest illness came in the 19th year of the Pope's reign. It halted all administrative activity of the church at the Vatican.

Vatican sources said death might come swiftly or the condition could continue for a long time. In the event of long incapacity, cardinals of the church stationed in Rome would take over many of the duties.

The Pope became ill after carrying on a heavy load of work and daily audiences at this summer residence outside Rome.

Four years ago he was forced to a long confinement after recovering from a grave illness.

He was born Eugenio Pacelli in Rome March 2, 1876. He was created a cardinal in 1929 and elected Pope March 2, 1939.

Community Fund Drive Short Of Goal; Only $14,876 'In'

Collections for the 1958 Pickaway County Community Fund today totaled $14,876.59, or 52 per cent of the $28,500 goal.

The latest report shows county and residential collections are starting to come into Fund headquarters in the American Hotel.

With only one week left in the campaign, all efforts must be made to cover the city and county. L. D. Varble, campaign chairman reported today. He said many solicitors have still not made calls on business and special groups prospects, all extremely vital to success of the fund drive.

The $28,500 goal is the "rock bottom" needed to maintain the operations of the five agencies for next year. Varble called on every Pickaway County citizen to "give till it feels good."

AS OF TODAY the fund is $13,624 short of the goal. A last-minute push will be needed, and extra large gifts will have to be forthcoming in order for the Fund to operate next year.

It was announced today that another business organization had reached 100 per cent in fund giving. Every employee of Pickaway Motors, Inc. has given to the PCCF.

The Fund is seeking a gift of one day's pay or from 1/2 to 2 per cent of the giver's annual income. The most frequent gift last year was $7.

New telephone number for Fund headquarters is GR 4-5691.

Switch to Dial Phone Success

Telephone users in Circleville have placed many thousands of calls since 6:30 a. m. yesterday when General Telephone's new dial system here was successfully cut into service. Harold W. Miller, commercial manager of the company, reported today.

He said that the change-over yesterday morning from the old manual to the new dial system was completed in a matter of minutes, but pointed out that a staff of General's equipment engineers and technicians were on duty most of the night preparing for the early morning cut-over.

Shortly after the dial conversion was completed, the new switching equipment on the second floor of the telephone building began to click as telephone users in many parts of the city dialed calls through the new system. Miller said. He added that the avalanche of calls grew steadily throughout the morning, with a peak from 11:30 a. m. to 1 p. m.

The switch to dial was, Miller said, "a smooth cut." He reported there were no major breakdowns in making the transition from manual to dial.

The telephone company today had many reports of trouble on individual lines. George Ghearing, district plant superintendent, said that most of it will be cleared as fast as it is reported. He said the volume of trouble calls, while heavy right now, will be a trickle by the end of the week.

TEN MEN are working on trouble calls today, Ghearing said. "We expected it," he reported.

Meanwhile, most local phone users were trying to get used to the dial phones today. Volume at the phone company was about average, but assistance calls, those asking for help in using the dial phone, were particularly heavy.

Air Force Corps To Brighten '58 Pumpkin Show

PERFECTION — The USAF Drum & Bugle Corps is recognized as the outstanding group of its kind. Its perfect marching precision, intricate maneuvers, and boundless repertoire have made it a sensation wherever it appears. It will appear in Circleville during the annual Pumpkin Show next week. Performances are scheduled for the Circleville High School gridiron. Special shuttlebuses will run from the Post-office to the field shortly before each corps show.

Little Rock Injunction Eyed

Federal Attorneys Appear in Court

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals took under advisement today a request for a permanent ban against transforming Little Rock high schools into private, all-white institutions.

The three-judge court gave no indication when it will make a ruling.

A hearing on a request by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) for an injunction lasted only about one hour.

A government attorney said a temporary restraining order against leasing of the Little Rock school buildings to a private corporation will remain in effect until the appeals court rules.

This is the newest action in the long struggle between the U.S. government, Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas, and that state's segregationist forces.

In a 25-page brief, U.S. attorneys emphasized two major points:

1. "The persistent and resourceful schemes which have been devised for evading the decrees of the federal courts enforcing those rights" (to go to public school).

2. "Little Rock has become the testing ground of the rule of law and the capacity of the judicial process to give real meaning and effect to constitutional rights."

They said if Central High in Little Rock is allowed to reopen on a segregated basis, "the harmful effects both to the children and to the country could in no way be undone by the courts."

The judges have been asked to make permanent a temporary order, issued by a federal court in Omaha last Monday, forbidding the leasing of Little Rock schools to a private organization which proposes to operate them, with state funds, as private, segregated schools.

Pending the result of today's hearing, the Little Rock Private School Corp. is going ahead, looking for money, teachers, and buildings. Dr. T. J. Raney, president of the corporation, says the private school system will open within the next few days if the Circuit Court hands down the permanent injunction today.

Dwight Radcliff and Robert Hoover said Brenner's car struck the Route 23 bridge which crosses Little Walnut Creek.

According to the deputies, both airmen were on their way to Hrones' home in Chicago to spend a five-day leave. They were traveling from Langley Air Force Base, Va.

Deputies Hoover and Radcliff said Brenner apparently went to sleep. Hrones told the lawmen that he was asleep.

The deputies said the car, headed north, crashed off the left side of the highway, crossed and struck the east side of the bridge, careened off and struck the other side of the bridge and came to a halt in the middle of the road.

Brenner was thrown from the auto when it first struck the side of the bridge, deputies said. Only the guard railing prevented the body from being hurled into Little Walnut Creek, they added.

The car was demolished, according to the deputies. The bridge also was damaged.

Accusation Filed Against Ex-Chief Of Toledo Clinic

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The suspended administrator of Maumee Valley Hospital was held in jail under $2,000 bond today on a charge of possessing indecent photographs.

John David Swaggerty, 38, was arrested Saturday night as he arrived by plane from Knoxville, Tenn.

Lucas County Prosecutor Harry Friberg has been preparing an embezzlement case against him in connection with a $400 expense item Swaggerty drew for a speech before the "Royal Academy of Institutes" in Ottawa, Ont. Hospital officials say there was no such group, but Swaggerty declared the academy has disbanded since he addressed it.

Prosecutor Friberg said the obscene photograph charge will serve to hold Swaggerty for the time being.

Depositor Demands Look at Bank Book

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Citizens National Bank of Ironton has until Nov. 1 to tell the Ohio Supreme Court why a depositor, who claims the bank president embezzled $140,000, should not see its books.

Chauncey Shafer has asked the court in a mandamus action for an order to examine the bank's books and to see the report of a federal bank examiner.

Shafer claimed President William McGurk altered the books to cover the alleged irregularities during 1952-54 and that an examiner received a "gratuity or bribe" to prevent disclosures.

Sub Seawolf Gls See Sun After 60 Days

ABOARD U.S.S. SKYLARK (AP)—The atomic submarine Seawolf surfaced 15 miles south of Block Island at 11:45 a. m. (EDT) today, ending a record 60 days under water.

She foamed to the surface of Long Island Sound in calm seas for her 116-man crew's first contact with the earth's atmosphere since she submerged Aug. 7.

The hatches were open. Two or three men stepped out, breathed deeply and yawned.

The Seawolf's exploit may help to answer such questions as: Can man endure such an extended period without contact with the atmosphere? How long would he do so? Is it practical for a submarine to act as a semipermanent underwater missile launching station? What problems remain to be solved?

The answers could have impact on space travel as well as military planning.

How do men react to their fellows in such circumstances? Psychologists will be interested.

A parade and reception are planned after the welcoming ceremonies today.

The Seawolf is a home town product, put together in Groton at the General Dynamics Corp.'s Electric Boat Division as the nation's second-born nuclear-powered submarine.

After the ceremonies are over and a couple of months pass, the Seawolf has another big date. She goes into drydock in December to change her reactor system to that of pressurized water, like those of other atomic subs. She now uses a liquid sodium system and, endurance record or not, it isn't as effective.

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP)—A petition asking creation of a four-county conservancy sub district was on file today in Common Pleas Court.

Van Wert, Mercer, Paulding and Putnam counties would be in the sub district to the 15-county Maumee Watershed Conservancy District and would plan flood prevention and stream control programs jointly.

THE telephone building began to click as telephone users in many parts of the city dialed calls through the new system, Miller said. He added that the avalanche of calls grew steadily throughout the morning, with a peak from 11:30 a. m. to 1 p. m.

The switch to dial was, Miller said, "a smooth cut." He reported there were no major breakdowns in making the transition from manual to dial.

The telephone company today had many reports of trouble on individual lines. George Ghearing, district plant superintendent, said that most of it will be cleared as fast as it is reported. He said the volume of trouble calls, while heavy right now, will be a trickle by the end of the week.

TEN MEN are working on trouble calls today, Ghearing said. "We expected it," he reported.

Meanwhile, most local phone users were trying to get used to the dial phones today. Volume at the phone company was about average, but assistance calls, those asking for help in using the dial phone, were particularly heavy.

Switch to Dial Phone Success

Telephone users in Circleville have placed many thousands of calls since 6:30 a. m. yesterday when General Telephone's new dial system here was successfully cut into service. Harold W. Miller, commercial manager of the company, reported today.

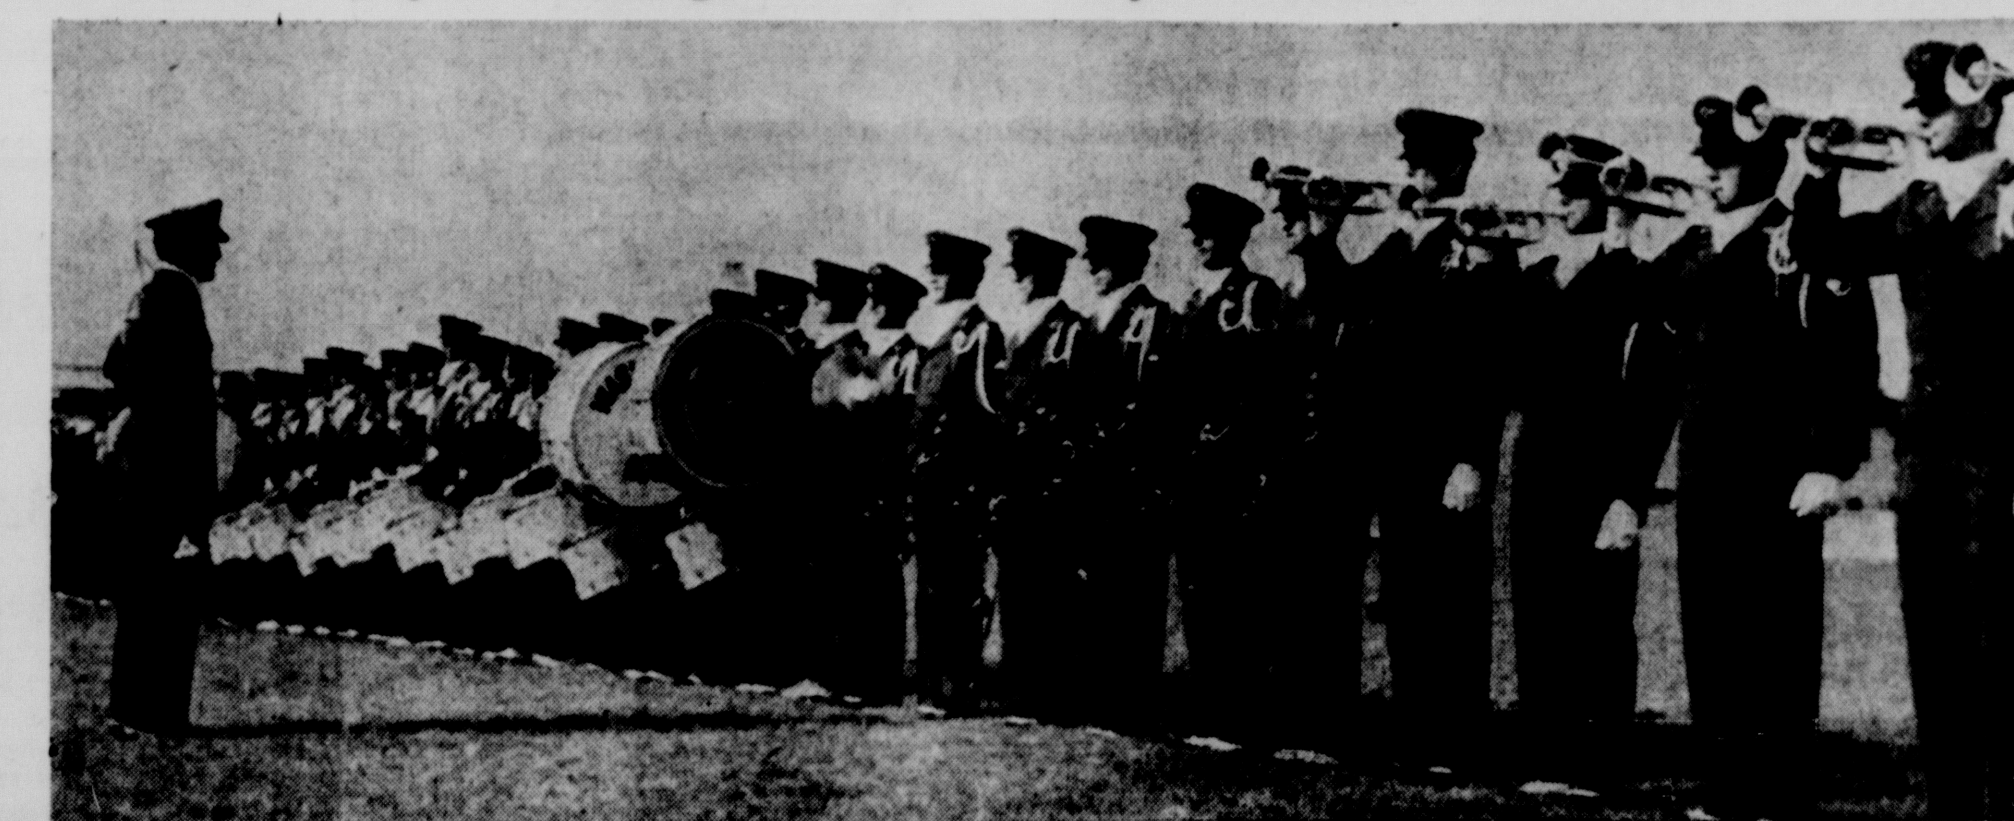

He said that the change-over yesterday morning from the old manual to the new dial system was completed in a matter of minutes, but pointed out that a staff of General's equipment engineers and technicians were on duty most of the night preparing for the early morning cut-over.

Shortly after the dial conversion was completed, the new switching equipment on the second floor of

Community Fund Drive Short Of Goal; Only $14,876 'In'

Collections for the 1958 Pickaway County Community Fund today totaled $14,876.59, or 52 per cent of the $28,500 goal.

The latest report shows county and residential collections are starting to come into Fund headquarters in the American Hotel.

With only one week left in the campaign, all efforts must be made to cover the city and county, L. D. Varble, campaign chairman reported today. He said many solicitors have still not made calls on business and special groups prospects, all extremely vital to success of the fund drive.

The $28,500 goal is the "rock bottom" needed to maintain the operations of the five agencies for next year. Varble called on every Pickaway County citizen to "give till it feels good."

AS OF TODAY the fund is $13,624 short of the goal. A last-minute push will be needed, and extra large gifts will have to be forthcoming in order for the Fund to operate next year.

It was announced today that another business organization had reached 100 per cent in fund giving. Every employee of Pickaway Motors, Inc. has given to the PCCF.

The Fund is seeking a gift of one day's pay or from 1/4 to 2 per cent of the giver's annual income. The most frequent gift last year was $7.

New telephone number for Fund headquarters is GR 4-5691.

Medic Says: 'All Is in Hands of God'

Aide Reports Slight Improvement, But Condition Is Grave

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP)—Pope Pius XII suffered a stroke today. The life of the 82-year-old pontiff hung in the balance at his summer residence here.

"All is in the hands of God," a physician reported from his bedside.

The Pope's great stamina, which brought him through a grave illness in 1954, asserted itself again.

Msgr. Angelo dell'Acqua, substitute secretary of state, visited the Pope a few hours after the stroke and reported a slight improvement in his condition. He emphasized, however, that his condition continued grave.

Seven Motorists Face OMVI Charge

Motorists arrested for driving under the influence of intoxicants headed a long list of violators appearing in Circleville Municipal Court during the weekend.

In all, seven drivers were cited for being under the influence. Two of the motorists were charged with double violations.

Samuel W. Hubbard, 29, London, was fined $200 and costs, sentenced to 10 days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for one year. It marked his second OMVI conviction.

Hubbard also was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to five days in jail for driving while his license was suspended. Judge Sterling M. Lamb ruled the jail terms to run consecutively. The accused was arrested by the sheriff's department.

Clement C. Crum, 40, Sandusky, arrested by city police for OMVI, was fined $100 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for six months. He also was fined $200 and costs for possessing obscene literature.

FIVE OTHER drivers receiving the usual OMVI penalty of $100 and costs, three days in jail and suspension of license for six months were:

Bobbie J. Linton, 27, Lancaster; Edward H. Neiman, 23, Lockbourne Air Force Base; William J. Haynes, 24, Columbus; Charles W.

Woman Hurt As Automobile Turns Over

Mrs. Georgia Anna Hartman, 52, Cincinnati, suffered contusions and lacerations when her car turned turtle after a collision at about 11:45 a. m. today at the corner of Mound and Washington Sts.

According to Jimmy R. Hatfield, 31, 342 E. Mound St., who was not injured, Mrs. Hartman ran the stop sign at the Washington St. intersection traveling north and was struck on the left side by Hatfield's automobile as he was traveling east on Mound St.

Mrs. Hartman's car was hit on the southeast corner of the intersection and turned over, landing on its top, on the northeast corner of the intersection.

Hatfield stated he was driving 20 miles per hour and was unable to stop in time. Mrs. Hartman was treated at Berger Hospital and released.

Her auto received damage to the top, front windshield and left side. Hatfield's 1953 model car was damaged on the front fender, hood, grill and bumper. City Police investigated the accident.

Final 1957 License Tax Sent To County

Pickaway County received $32,626.80 October 1 from the office of State Auditor James A. Rhodes as the final distribution of 1957 motor vehicle license money.

A total of $9,821,187.10 went out to all 88 Ohio counties on the above date to bolster the sagging balances in most county and municipal street and road funds.

This covers the 47 per cent of the fees allotted to counties; 34 per cent of which goes to districts of registration (cities, villages and counties), and 5 per cent of which goes into an equalization fund from which all counties share alike.

Still to be distributed out of the 1957 license money is 9 per cent allotted to counties and 5 per cent to townships on the basis of their road mileage.

Out of the $9.8 million distributed, Cuyahoga county and its municipalities received $1,581,410.51, or 16 per cent of the total.

The Hannah, Wyo., native was a 1954 graduate of Mt. Pleasant High School and is a member of the Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Walter May, speech therapist for the Teays Valley school district, will assume the Darby Twp. school in her jurisdiction.

Five Treated At Hospital

Arthur Mace, 54, of Route 3, fell from a load of hay and cut the right side of his head at 2:20 p. m. Saturday. He was admitted to Berger Hospital and his condition was listed as "good" this morning.

Elmer Butterbaugh, 33, Turner Drive, was struck on the head by a ladder at 3:15 p. m. Saturday. He was treated for a laceration of the lower right eye lid at the hospital and released.

Arnold Peters, 19, of 337 E. Corwin St., caught his hand in the fan of the car while working on it at home Saturday. He was treated for a laceration at the hospital and released.

Ricky Shaw, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mac Shaw, Route 4, fell from a rafter in the barn suffering a possible fractured right wrist at 9 p. m. yesterday. He was treated at the hospital and released.

Red Guns Silent Off Quemoy; U.S., Chiang Study 'Truce'

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Red China's guns remained silent today while a big American-escorted convoy unloaded supplies at Quemoy.

Peiping announced a seven-day cease-fire, effective Sunday midnight, on the condition that the United States stop escorting Nationalist Chinese convoys to the embattled island.

The cease-fire order was coupled with a call to Nationalist President Chiang Kai-shek to negotiate directly on a settlement over Formosa and the offshore islands.

Chiang, in an interview with Cecil Brown of NBC, rejected any such direct negotiations with the Communists. He said the Peiping announcement was a "trick and deception," and he hoped the United States would continue to escort Nationalist supply convoys with its 7th Fleet warships.

Sampson Shen, Chiang's information director, declared the purpose of Peiping's order was to create a split between Taipei and Washington—and a split appeared to have been the result in the first reaction of officials in the two capitals.

Shen declared the Nationalists distrusted the Communist cease-fire and would ignore it. He said there would be no withdrawal of the Nationalist request for American escorts.

Washington officials, however, privately expressed their delight even at the limited and conditional cease-fire. Washington reports said a rejection of Peiping's announcement was out of the question. These reports pointed out that with a cease-fire the reason for American escorts ceased to exist.

Both President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have emphasized the central policy of getting a cease-fire in Formosa Strait and of not bowing to force.

In Washington, a link was seen between Peiping's order and a sharp statement by Soviet Premier Khrushchev Sunday declaring the Soviet Union would not be drawn into an all-Chinese war on the side of Red China unless the United States attacked the Communist regime. As Washington saw it, Khrushchev was tugging Peiping back from the brink.

High-ranking Nationalist and American officials met to consider the new situation. American sources said a recommendation would come from the conferences

Four Injured In Crashes on Area Highways

Four persons were injured, none seriously, in two accidents on area highways during the weekend.

Samuel W. Hubbard, 29, London, suffered a cut above the left eye and bruises and abrasions when his auto crashed off Route 56 near Five Points at 4:45 p. m. Saturday.

Hubbard was treated at Berger Hospital. The auto, crashing into a fence, was heavily damaged, according to the sheriff's department.

Deputy Charles Felkey said Hubbard was arrested for driving under the influence of intoxicants.

THE SECOND crash came at 7 p. m. yesterday at Routes 56 and 150. Injured were Clyde Hovatter, 54, Columbus, who was treated at Berger Hospital for abrasions, and Steven Hovatter, 2, treated for a small laceration above the right eye.

The car was driven by Ronald Hovatter. His wife suffered a minor sprain of the left leg.

U.S. Supreme Court Opens Fall Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court begins a regular fall term today that is expected to produce important decisions in the fields of race relations and business regulation.

Following tradition, the court limits its first meeting to brief opening formalities. The justices will spend the remainder of the week discussing various appeals in closed conferences, and announce their first decisions next Monday.

Major cases in both racial and business fields are included in a pending docket of nearly 70 cases. They cover a wide variety of issues.

Twelve appeals involving racial questions face the court, which only a week ago spoke out in special session against evasive schemes to keep school segregation.

More such cases are expected. Southern opponents of the Supreme Court's school rulings cast about for new ways to continue classes on a segregated basis.

Among the 12 pending appeals is one by Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas. He has asked the court to declare invalid an injunction issued by a lower court. The injunction halted use of National Guardsmen at Central High School in Little Rock in September 1957.

Dynamited Tennessee School To Resume Classes Tuesday

CLINTON, Tenn. (AP) — The principal of integrated Clinton High School, which was wrecked Sunday by three bombs expertly set off in early morning fog, said today classes will be resumed Tuesday.

W. D. Human said classes will be held in the undamaged gymnasium, the National Guard Armory and church school facilities until Thursday. After that, he added, the entire student body of 850 white and 11 Negro pupils will be transported by bus to a vacant school building in nearby Oak Ridge.

Eight Negro girls, five of them walking from their homes here and three others arriving from rural areas by bus, were seen entering the gymnasium for today's student assembly.

Officials tentatively estimated damage to the bombed building at $300,000. The rambling brick structure was built in 1927. Sixteen of its 20 classrooms were reduced to rubble by the explosions.

Stock Prices Continue To Climb Upward

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued a rush into new record ground in heavy trading early this afternoon.

Coppers, steels, airlines, some motors and chemicals set the pace.

Leading stocks gained fractions to a point or more. Selected issues made wider gains.

Predictions of even higher copper prices, the inauguration of the commercial jet aircraft age over the Atlantic, continued good prospects for the steel industry and a variety of encouraging reports on the economy and specific companies accompanied the rise.

The market was resuming its vigorous advance of last week to a string of historic peaks.

Magma was outstanding in the copper group, jumping more than three points. Kennecott was ahead about two and Anaconda and International Nickel well over a point. Phelps Dodge added a point.

American Telephone advanced more than a point. General Motors gained a fraction.

U.S. Steel and Crucible each rose about a point.

Pan American World Airways was steady and Eastern Air Lines up about a point.

American Cyanamid rose about a point while Air Reduction and Du Pont did better. Royal Dutch was ahead about a point.

U.S. government bonds improved.

Mainly About People

Five Circleville women left yesterday on a tour of New York, its stage shows and sights of interest.

On the tour from here are Mrs. John Bowers, 815 Arbor Road; Mrs. Phil Smith, 121 E. Union St.; Mrs. Doris Reichelderfer, 131 E. Union St.; Mrs. Jasper M. Hedges, Arbor Road and Mrs. George Roth, Route 2.

The group will return Friday night. The shows the group will see include "My Fair Lady" and "Music Man."

Dewey's Barber Shop will be closed Friday and Saturday, Oct. 10 and 11th.

There will be a card party Saturday, October 4th at 8:30 p. m. at the Jackson Twp. School. Sponsored by the Booster Club.

According to the Navy's "Hurricane Hunters," hurricanes normally move at a speed of 10 to 20 miles per hour, but they may travel much slower, particularly when changing course.

Seven Motorists Face OMVI Charge

Motorists arrested for driving under the influence of intoxicants headed a long list of violators appearing in Circleville Municipal Court during the weekend.

In all, seven drivers were cited for being under the influence. Two of the motorists were charged with double violations.

Samuel W. Hubbard, 29, London, was fined $200 and costs, sentenced to 10 days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for one year. It marked his second OMVI conviction.

Hubbard also was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to five days in jail for driving while his license was suspended. Judge Sterling M. Lamb ruled the jail terms to run consecutively. The accused was arrested by the sheriff's department.

Clement C. Crum, 40, Sandusky, arrested by city police for OMVI, was fined $100 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for six months. He also was fined $200 and costs for possessing obscene literature.

FIVE OTHER drivers receiving the usual OMVI penalty of $100 and costs, three days in jail and suspension of license for six months were:

Woman Hurt As Automobile Turns Over

Mrs. Georgia Anna Hartman, 52, Cincinnati, suffered contusions and lacerations when her car turned turtle after a collision at about 11:45 a. m. today at the corner of Mound and Washington Sts.

According to Jimmy R. Hatfield, 31, 342 E. Mound St., who was not injured, Mrs. Hartman ran the stop sign at the Washington St. intersection traveling north and was struck on the left side by Hatfield's automobile as he was traveling east on Mound St.

Mrs. Hartman's car was hit on the southeast corner of the intersection and turned over, landing on its top, on the northeast corner of the intersection. Hatfield stated he was driving 20 miles per hour and was unable to stop in time. Mrs. Hartman was treated at Berger Hospital and released.

Her auto received damage to the top, front windshield and left side. Hatfield's 1953 model car was damaged on the front fender, hood, grill and bumper. City Police investigated the accident.

Final 1957 License Tax Sent To County

Pickaway County received $32,626.80 October 1 from the office of State Auditor James A. Rhodes as the final distribution of 1957 motor vehicle license money.

A total of $9,821,187.10 went out to all 88 Ohio counties on the above date to bolster the sagging balance in most county and municipal street and road funds.

This covers the 47 per cent of the fees allotted to counties; 34 per cent of which goes to districts of registration (cities, villages and counties), and 5 per cent of which goes into an equalization fund from which all counties share alike.

Still to be distributed out of the 1957 license money is 9 per cent allotted to counties and 5 per cent to townships on the basis of their road mileage.

Out of the $9.8 million distributed, Cuyahoga county and its municipalities received $1,581,410.51, or 16 per cent of the total.

Logan Elm, Westfall Hire New Therapist

Miss Geraldyn Phyllis Moulton, 22, Mt. Pleasant was today employed by the Westfall and Logan Elm School Districts to teach speech and hearing therapy.

Miss Moulton will divide her services between the two districts. She is a 1958 graduate of Ohio University with a B. S. degree in speech correction.

The Hannah, Wyo., native was a 1954 graduate of Mt. Pleasant High School and is a member of the Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Walter May, speech therapist for the Teays Valley school district, will assume the Darby Twp. school in her jurisdiction.

Five Treated At Hospital

Arthur Mace, 54, of Route 3, fell from a load of hay and cut the right side of his head at 2:20 p. m. Saturday. He was admitted to Berger Hospital and his condition was listed as "good" this morning.

Elmer Butterbaugh, 33, Turner Drive, was struck on the head by a ladder at 3:15 p. m. Saturday. He was treated for a laceration of the lower right eye lid at the hospital and released.

Arnold Peters, 19, of 337 E. Corwin St., caught his hand in the fan of the car while working on it at home Saturday. He was treated for a laceration at the hospital and released.

Ricky Shaw, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mac Shaw, Route 4, fell from a raft in the barn suffering a possible fractured right wrist at 9 p. m. yesterday. He was treated at the hospital and released.

Red Guns Silent Off Quemoy; U.S., Chiang Study 'Truce'

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Red China's guns remained silent today while a big American-escorted convoy unloaded supplies at Quemoy.

Peiping announced a seven-day cease-fire, effective Sunday midnight, on the condition that the United States stop escorting Nationalist Chinese convoys to the embattled island.

The cease-fire order was coupled with a call to Nationalist President Chiang Kai-shek to negotiate directly on a settlement over Formosa and the offshore islands.

Chiang, in an interview with Cecil Brown of NBC, rejected any such direct negotiations with the Communists. He said the Peiping announcement was a "trick and deception," and he hoped the United States would continue to escort Nationalist supply convoys with its 7th Fleet warships.

Sampson Shen, Chiang's information director, declared the purpose of Peiping's order was to create a split between Taipei and Washington—and a split appeared to have been the result in the first reaction of officials in the two capitals.

Shen declared the Nationalists distrusted the Communist cease-fire and would ignore it. He said there would be no withdrawal of the Nationalist request for American escorts.

Washington officials, however, privately expressed their delight even at the limited and conditional cease-fire. Washington reports said a rejection of Peiping's announcement was out of the question. These reports pointed out that with a cease-fire the reason for American escorts ceased to exist.

Both President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have emphasized the central policy of getting a cease-fire in Formosa Strait and of not bowing to force.

In Washington, a link was seen between Peiping's order and a sharp statement by Soviet Premier Khrushchev Sunday declaring the Soviet Union would not be drawn into an all-Chinese war on the side of Red China unless the United States attacked the Communist regime. As Washington saw it, Khrushchev was tugging Peiping back from the brink.

High-ranking Nationalist and American officers met to consider the new situation. American sources said a recommendation would come from the conferences.

Four Injured In Crashes on Area Highways

Four persons were injured, none seriously, in two accidents on area highways during the weekend.

Samuel W. Hubbard, 29, London, suffered a cut above the left eye and bruises and abrasions when his auto crashed off Route 56 near Five Points at 4:45 p. m. Saturday.

Hubbard was treated at Berger Hospital. The auto, crashing into a fence, was heavily damaged, according to the sheriff's department.

Deputy Charles Felkey said Hubbard was arrested for driving under the influence of intoxicants.

THE SECOND crash came at 7 p. m. yesterday at Routes 56 and 158. Injured were Clyde Hovatter, 54, Columbus, who was treated at Berger Hospital for abrasions, and Steven Hovatter, 2, treated for a small laceration above the right eye.

The car was driven by Ronald Hovatter. His wife suffered a minor sprain of the left leg.

U.S. Supreme Court Opens Fall Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court begins a regular fall term today that is expected to produce important decisions in the fields of race relations and business regulation.

Following tradition, the court limits its first meeting to brief opening formalities. The justices will spend the remainder of the week discussing various appeals in closed conferences, and announce their first decisions next Monday.

Major cases in both racial and business fields are included in a pending docket of nearly 70 cases. They cover a wide variety of issues.

Twelve appeals involving racial questions face the court, which only a week ago spoke out in special session against evasive schemes to keep school segregation.

More such cases are expected. Southern opponents of the Supreme Court's school rulings cast about for new ways to continue classes on a segregated basis.

Among the 12 pending appeals is one by Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas. He has asked the court to declare invalid an injunction issued by a lower court. The injunction halted use of National Guardsmen at Central High School in Little Rock in September 1957.

Stock Prices Continue To Climb Upward

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued a rush into new record ground in heavy trading early this afternoon.

Coppers, steels, airlines, some motors and chemicals set the pace.

Leading stocks gained fractions to a point or more. Selected issues made wider gains.

Predictions of even higher copper prices, the inauguration of the commercial jet aircraft age over the Atlantic, continued good prospects for the steel industry and a variety of encouraging reports on the economy and specific companies accompanied the rise.

The market was resuming its vigorous advance of last week to a string of historic peaks.

Magma was outstanding in the copper group, jumping more than three points. Kennecott was ahead about two and Anaconda and International Nickel well over a point. Phelps Dodge added a point.

American Telephone advanced more than a point. General Motors gained a fraction.

U.S. Steel and Crucible each rose about a point. Pan American World Airways was steady and Eastern Air Lines up about a point.

American Cyanamid rose about a point while Air Reduction and Du Pont did better. Royal Dutch was ahead about a point.

U.S. government bonds improved.

Mainly About People

Five Circleville women left yesterday on a tour of New York, its state shows and sights of interest.

On the tour from here are Mrs. John Bowers, 815 Arbor Road; Mrs. Phil Smith, 121 E. Union St.; Mrs. Doris Reichelderfer, 131 E. Union St.; Mrs. Jasper M. Hedges, Arbor Road and Mrs. George Roth, Route 2.

The group will return Friday night. The shows the group will see include "My Fair Lady" and "Music Man".

Dewey's Barber Shop will be closed Friday and Saturday, Oct. 10 and 11th.

There will be a card party Saturday, October 4th at 8:30 p. m. at the Jackson Twp. School. Sponsored by the Booster Club.

According to the Navy's "Hurricane Hunters", hurricanes normally move at a speed of 10 to 20 miles per hour, but they may travel much slower, particularly when changing course.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Can you and will you explain, with the insight you usually show, why a man of 50 is still a bachelor?

My bachelor is a professional man—successful, intelligent and of good family. He is very much aware of women sexually and has had innumerable affairs that all ended unhappily, either for him or the woman or both, after a period of a year or so. Towards the end of the affair he begins to find fault—and for different reasons, with almost every woman.

His childhood was unhappy. His mother was cool and undemonstrative and his father was domineering. He didn't have an affair until he was 30, because in his very early youth his father had warned him against sex unless married.

He once told a woman who was in love with him: "I am afraid of love; I feel trapped."

What advice would you give this woman, who is still in love with him; and who is a warm, emotional and intelligent person with an enormous amount of patience and optimism?

those who care ardently about the best interests of one another.

To help your bachelor find his way out of hell-on-earth, you might make him a gift of Aelred Watkin's new book "The Enemies of Love" (P. J. Kenedy & Sons, publishers, New York).

New Kenyon Prexy Raps Cultural Piety

MOUNT VERNON (AP)—Franze Lund Saturday was inaugurated as president of 135-year-old Kenyon College at nearby Gambier with more than 1,000 guests looking on.

The induction ceremony was performed by the Rt. Rev. Nelson M. Burroughs, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Ohio and chairman of Kenyon's board of trustees.

Lund's inaugural address stressed that education is possible only for individuals. He asserted:

"I am suspicious of all mass reform which is not vitally and directly concerned with educating individuals; of all group adjustment, group living, social uplift and cultural piety." At Kenyon, he added, "We are concerned with individuals who think... we believe in education by conviction."

"One social purpose embraced in a concept of liberal education is the training of individual free men and of individual leaders."

"The simple fact remains that a strict adherence to academic standards, to a liberating discipline, produces more men who are leaders—by which I mean simply those who make great demand upon themselves."

Rhodesian Town Plagued by Bees

SINOA, Southern Rhodesia (AP)—Bees swarming by the million terrorized the 2,000 population of this small mining community 80 miles from Salisbury Saturday.

Twice in the past three days the invasion brought life to a standstill. Banks, offices, shops and restaurants closed their doors. Scores of people have been stung and many hospitalized. Saturday's attack came during the shopping rush. Police cars warned people to get off the streets and take cover.

5 Ohioans Due For Honor by Safety Council

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Citations for distinguished service to Ohio are going to Mrs. Ketti Frings, novelist and Pulitzer Prize-winning dramatist; Adele and Cateau De Leeuw, writers of young people's books, and John W. Haussermann Jr., composer, the Martha Kinney Cooper Ohioana Library Assn. has announced.

They will be presented Nov. 1 at the annual meeting and authors luncheon here. The library is a state-wide organization which has more than 13,000 books and brochures about Ohio or written by Ohioans.

Mrs. Frings, who dramatized Thomas Wolfe's novel "Look Homeward, Angel," and wrote "Hold Back the Dawn" and "God's Front Porch," is a native of Columbus, but now lives in Beverly Hills, Calif. She wrote several screen adaptations, including "Come Back, Little Sheba," and "The Shrike."

The De Leeuw sisters are from Hamilton and live in Plainfield, N.J. Adele has had 38 books published; Cateau 28.

Haussermann is from Cincinnati. He has written compositions for instruments and voice.

What advice would you give this woman, who is still in love with him; and who is a warm, emotional and intelligent person with an enormous amount of patience and optimism?

T.R.

DEAR T.R.: Most love-starved children are afraid of life; and a compulsive bachelor is a mixed-up child at heart, still reacting to childhood deprivation.

He is profoundly disturbed by a haunting sense of personal inadequacy, as regards womanhood especially; so that he feels obliged to keep his distance psychologically, not to let any one of them inside his guard, lest they recognize and despise and triumph over his pitiful insufficiency.

The bachelor feels (unconsciously) that his mother let him down, by coldness, indifference, selfishness, etc. He has a deep sense of grievance on that score, and takes it out on all women who aspire to be significant to him. Towards them he feels suspicious, hostile and revenge-minded, in an impersonal way—and with this his unconscious emotional repertory, his romances are bound to come to grief, no matter how magnanimous his partners are.

According to the theological view of life, love is the achievement for which man was created; the destiny to which he is called in this world, and in eternity; and hell consists in being cut off from love. Hell (here and hereafter) is the fate of being self-excluded from the radiant fellowship of those who care ardently about the best interests of one another.

Democracy Chane in Burma

A 10-year experiment in democracy in Burma appears to be at an end.

The Burmese army seized power in a bloodless coup. The commander in chief was asked to head the new government. It is interesting that he has agreed to hold general elections before next April 30.

The demise of the government of Premier U Nu does not come as too much of a surprise. It has been too weak and has not really governed the country. Also, it has played footsie with communist elements—and this was the reason given by the army for taking over.

From the standpoint of stiffened resistance to the communists—which today is the all important consideration—the change is welcomed in the West. The new premier, Ne Win, is described as strongly anti-communist and quoted as saying, "We must fight the reds tooth and nail."

Perhaps Burma, following a new election, will be able to set up an elected government that is not red-infiltrated. In the meantime army control is an improvement over a regime that used the facade of democracy to swing the country toward communism.

Mustard Stick at the Ready

By Hal Boyle

By HUGH MULLIGAN (For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — When the opening lineup is announced in cavernous Yankee Stadium, poised, confident John Moriarty always is dressed for another game.

Wicker basket on white-jacketed arm, mustard stick in the alert position, he will coolly step before the assembled 65,000, rear back and fire the big one:

"Here ya, getcha red hot franks here!"

Moriarty, a port-sided coin flipper born almost in the shadow of the House that Ruth built, got his start in the big leagues as a second-string soda seller, gradually worked his way up to candy butcher and peanut vendor, and after several impressive appearances in relief drew a starting assignment as hot dog hustler, the cash clean-up spot to which all rookies aspire.

Three full seasons and two World Series behind him, Moriarty, now just turned 18, is at the top of his form. His delivery is shrill and commanding; his diction a gravel-based blend of Bronx and Brooklynese that assaults the ear drum with terrifying urgency. He can go deep to make change in the upper deck and make the turn at the mezzanine for a double sale in the box seats.

On a clear day, before a packed house, he can flip a coin 30 rows back into the stands and hit the strike zone with awesome regularity.

"For women," he confided, "we use an underarm motion, something like the submarine ball Carl Mays used to throw. Men like to have it burned over with a full thumb snap so they can show off on the catch. Control is everything. A wild throw can cost you several big sales while you're burrowing under the seats for a passed quarter."

Russia's Greatest Defeat

By George Sokolsky

The victory of Gen. Charles de Gaulle is undoubtedly the greatest defeat that Russia has known since the Russian Revolution of 1917.

In the first place, all the world was given to believe that the Algerians were absolutely opposed to France, hated France, wanted to be free from France. The Algerian vote to remain part of France was 3,356,169 for to 118,615 against. This included Algerian Moslems.

The Russian opposition to de Gaulle took hold only in Guinea where the premier is a Marxist. Otherwise all French colonies voted in the referendum to remain part of France. De Gaulle's judgment was correct.

While there is an Algerian independence movement, it did not show in the votes.

For years and years, the excuse for all France's weaknesses was the terrific strength of the French Communist Party. In fact, it is the French Communist Party that exercised a control over the United States Communist Party, Jacques Duclos, the French leader, stating the ground rules for the American party.

Strength of the French Communist Party did not show up in the referendum. In fact, districts that have for years been regarded as Communist controlled did not vote against de Gaulle. In a word, the nationalistic spirit engendered by de Gaulle's movement has already produced a resistance to Soviet subversion in France.

The new constitution can kill the influence of the French Communist Party altogether. In the first place, under it, France can switch from proportional representation to majority rule. If that happens, France will enjoy the two party system similar to that which exists in the United States and Great Britain.

It would mean that the splinter parties would disappear and that the Communists to hold any position, would have to become the principal party in opposition. The referendum vote on the constitution would not indicate that the Communists hold any such position in France today.

Furthermore, subversion will not be tolerated under the new constitution. Such a picture as Thorez presented some years ago when he became ill, will not be permitted again. With all the medical facilities available in France or in any nearby country, he was flown to Moscow to be treated and for recuperation, apparently because the Communists feared that he might

New Model Cars Face Top Prospects

DETROIT (AP) — Most 1959 cars will be on sale within the next couple of weeks with brightening prospects.

The big volume vehicles—Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth—will appear in the latter half of October. They will have enhanced eye-appeal, numerous engineering advances and more optional items.

Retail deliveries have been lagging in the cleanup of outgoing cars, but the industry is in the most favorable inventory position it has known for many months.

There will be battles in all price classes but the toughest competition will develop among producers in the lower price field.

The industry spent more than a billion dollars developing 1959 cars. More than half of this was invested by General Motors, which has restyled all its lines for 1959. And of the GM investment Chevrolet, the industry's biggest individual money maker, got the lion's share.

Ford has said everything on its 1959 models will be new. Plymouth also has made styling and mechanical changes.

Sales promotion for 1959 will put more than usual emphasis on engineering advances as well as on increased eye-appeal. All makers have sought to improve fuel economy, reduce operational noise and ease driving effort.

Without exception the carmakers will stress broad improvements in braking systems. Most producers have enlarged brake assemblies and developed improved methods of cooling to minimize fading tendencies.

ARCHBISHOP OF CHICAGO—Pope Pius XII has named Archbishop Albert G. Meyer (above), 55, of Milwaukee, to succeed the late Samuel Cardinal Stritch as Archbishop of Chicago, the United States' largest Catholic archdiocese.

NEW TAX CHIEF—Attorney Dana Latham, newly named as U. S. tax commissioner by President Eisenhower, says in Los Angeles, "The goal should be for simpler, more uniform tax laws." He'll go east soon.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev's remarkable one-question, one-answer interview Sunday has the look of an extremely important development in the Far East crisis.

The Soviet Premier and party boss called in the news agency Tass to tell the world Moscow has not the slightest intention of getting into the fight between the Chinese Communists and the Nationalists on Formosa.

It is plainer than ever now that Moscow is worried by the Formosa crisis. And it is highly likely Khrushchev's words were meant particularly for the ears of the Chinese Communists.

These interviews do not come about by accident, or through the enterprise of some Soviet reporter. Tass is an instrument of Soviet policy. For all practical purposes, it is part of the Soviet Foreign Ministry. A statement like this, distributed by Tass, carries as much weight as a formal diplomatic note.

Khrushchev was obliged to use an oblique approach in his warning to Peiping. But he seemed anxious to leave the Red Chinese with no illusions regarding the extent to which Moscow is committed to help them militarily under the 1950 Sino-Soviet Treaty.

Khrushchev accomplished his purpose in this way: He quoted President Eisenhower's Wednesday news conference comment questioning Red China's calling the Formosa Strait shooting only a civil war. The President had said that if it was a civil war, he wanted to know why Khrushchev indicated the Soviet Union was ready to take part in it.

Khrushchev leaped to the opportunity. Acting the part of a man hitting the ceiling at the "tricks" of his antagonists, Khrushchev thundered that he never did say any such thing. What did he say, then?

In Khrushchev's own words, he has not given the slightest hint that the U.S.S.R. is ready to take part in a Chinese civil war. The U.S.S.R. would come to Red China's help only if the Red Chinese were attacked "from without," or "speaking more concretely, if the U.S. A. attacks the Chinese People's (Communist) Republic."

What goes on, says Khrushchev, is indeed a civil war, and thus an internal Chinese affair.

This spells it out for Peiping. If the Red Chinese go too far, if they attack and are met by force, the Soviet Union reserves the right to avoid involving itself in a war with the United States. Only if the United States attacks is the U.S.S.R. obliged to come to Red China's help with military support.

Khrushchev got this message

BIG GIRL NOW—Margaret O'Brien, child actress who is now 20 and making a comeback as an adult, is shown in Chicago on her way to New York to rehearse for a TV musical of "Little Women." There has been a running dispute over her portrayal of Beth.

across through the transparent device of an arranged interview limited to one question and one answer. His anxiety to do so confirms the impression held by many in this capital that the Soviet Union cannot wholly control Peiping in the Formosa Strait crisis.

The Red Chinese, smelling a victory, might be too much inclined to pour on pressure to the limit, in their own display of brinkmanship.

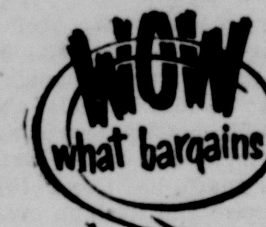

So Khrushchev is saying to the Chinese: All right, that is your own internal affair. If you are not attacked directly from without, specifically by the United States, that lets us out. You go it alone.

Peiping is not likely to take kindly to the Khrushchev statement. But it will make the Red Chinese think carefully about going off the deep end.

Like all major leaguers, Moriarty has to contend with a certain amount of irksome horseplay from the sidelines.

"When you're passing a frank down the aisle, for instance," he cited past indignities, "some wise guy will always make like he's going to take a bite out of it. Once or twice a character actually did. The same bit with the change: There's always one comedian who tries to put it in his pocket. That's why we prefer the direct flip."

Moriarty's idea of a good day: "Anything but the World Series. It's too crowded to move around and people paid too much money to take their eyes off the game long enough to down a couple of franks. Give me a good cold day, a long dull game and a bunch of kids who got in for free on passes, kids who got in for free on passes."

Russia's Greatest Defeat

Strength of the French Communist Party did not show up in the referendum. In fact, districts that have for years been regarded as Communist controlled did not vote against de Gaulle. In a word, the nationalistic spirit engendered by de Gaulle's movement has already produced a resistance to Soviet subversion in France.

The new constitution can kill the influence of the French Communist Party altogether. In the first place, under it, France can switch from proportional representation to majority rule. If that happens, France will enjoy the two party system similar to that which exists in the United States and Great Britain.

It would mean that the splinter parties would disappear and that the Communists to hold any position, would have to become the principal party in opposition. The referendum vote on the constitution would not indicate that the Communists hold any such position in France today.

Furthermore, subversion will not be tolerated under the new constitution. Such a picture as Thorez presented some years ago when he became ill, will not be permitted again. With all the medical facilities available in France or in any nearby country, he was flown to Moscow to be treated and for recuperation, apparently because the Communists feared that he might talk under an anesthetic. Then after a prolonged period of hospitalization and cure in Russia, Thorez came back to France.

And the question arose in many minds as to whether Thorez is a citizen of France or of Soviet Russia. And that question must arise concerning Communists in all countries who accept the discipline of Russia.

Of course, it is true that even under the two party system, Communists do operate, principally by infiltrating the major parties and, in the guise of liberalism or even conservatism, doing the jobs the Kremlin needs to have done. But it is likely that de Gaulle, who has some considerable knowledge of Communist operations in France, particularly during the days of the Resistance, will know how to handle Communist sabotage of France.

Also Andre Malraux, one of de Gaulle's ministers, was once in the Communist Party and has had experience with its mechanisms. He had been in China which in the 1925-27 period was the training ground for Communist leadership.

Therefore it is safe to assume that sooner or later, de Gaulle will find a method of eliminating received during the referendum justifies him in assuming that he has a mandate to do just that and being a man of action, he will.

How Moscow will react to this is still to be seen because the loss of prestige to Russia in de Gaulle's emergence to power by a popular referendum is enormous. For France has ever exercised an intellectual and spiritual leadership over Europe; it is, therefore, impossible for such a startling event as the emergence of de Gaulle and his acceptance by a referendum to have taken place without the whole of Europe being affected by it. This will have responses in every European country and will during the next year bring about unexpected changes in many European attitudes.

Politicians, in all countries, since 1945, have been rather fearful men. They have never understood the Communist phenomenon and have therefore been driven to absurd compromises by it. De Gaulle leads a new way—a hopeful way.

Pre-School Speech, Hearing Program Starts In Schools

The following is the first of a series of five articles which will appear in The Circleville Herald. The articles have been prepared by Mrs. Walter May, speech and hearing therapist for the Teays Valley School District.

A program to provide assistance to pre-school children in Pickaway County with speech or hearing handicaps has been announced by county superintendent George McDowell.

Under the new program, county pre-school children referred by their physicians, local agencies or their parents because of a suspected speech or hearing problem, will be examined by a school speech and hearing therapist.

Recommendations for therapy, medical referrals or referrals to various rehabilitation social agencies may be made by the therapist. Where therapy is recommended, but regular trips to Columbus speech clinics are not practical for the child's family, the child may receive therapy at a county school, regardless of age.

According to McDowell, the program is aimed at discovering children with severe speech and hearing handicaps at an early age, when treatment is usually most effective.

IN GENERAL, any child whose speech seems different from the speech of other children of his age group, should be seen by a private or school therapist. On the average, a speech or hearing disorder must be suspected if a child is not using at least two word sentences at three years, or if a child more than four-years-old cannot be understood.

Where a hearing loss is suspected a physician or a therapist should examine the child as soon as discovery is noted.

McDowell stated that all county schools have a therapy program. At present, the Teays Valley school district started the school year with a speech and hearing program, and the Logan Elm and Westfall schools have recently employed a therapist. The Circleville school system has a full-time therapy program this year, for the first time in several years.

Parents or physicians wishing to refer a child to the county speech and hearing therapist should call the county superintendent's office, number 60.

Speech pathology and speech therapy are the professions concerned with abnormal speech and its correction. Abnormal speech is not difficult to recognize—a useful definition calls speech abnormal, if it is unintelligible, unpleasant, or makes the speaker conspicuous. Such handicapping speech conditions are not rare; probably 4 or 5 per cent of our population suffers from a speech disorder to some degree, making this one of the largest groups of handicapped individuals.

Since communication through speech is a vital part of every aspect of modern life, the person with a severe speech problem is truly a handicapped individual. The severely speech handicapped child or adult is peculiarly isolated in the midst of people; he is socially embarrassed, educationally and occupationally hampered.

Even relatively minor speech defects are often wrongly interpreted as signs of a babyish, or a mentally dull personality, when actually they are related to neither factor. From such interpretations come the embarrassment, the anxiety and frustration which often result from speech disorders and compound the problem.

THE MOST common speech disorders are disorders of articulation—the substitution, omission or distortion of sounds. It might be normal for a 3-year old to say he wants to "do to kool", instead of "go to school", but for a bright 8 year old who suffers because he cannot say it any other way, the situation is not normal and he needs professional help.

Some speech problems have an organic basis: a cerebral palsied child's inability to control his muscles may extend to the muscles of speech, as well as to his arms and legs; the surgery that closes a cleft lip and cleft palate may not, in itself, restore good speech. These children need speech therapy.

Voice problems—the hoarse, raspy voice, the inappropriate pitch, the breathy, inadequate voice may need therapy for better usage, as well as medical care.

Stuttering is a complex disorder that seems to have several causes. The therapist is interested in both direct therapy with stutters and indirect, preventive therapy.

When speech development fails to occur, speech therapists and pathologists, physicians and psy-

Drug Blamed In Deaths of Twin Babies

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coroner Samuel R. Gerber today ruled accidental death from atropine poisoning in the case of 2-month-old twin babies Daniel and David Nelson who had been given medication for upset stomachs.

At police headquarters, homicide bureau Capt. David E. Kerr said even though the ruling was accidental death, facts in the case will be presented to the police prosecutor.

He said investigation by the homicide bureau and Coroner Gerber's office disclosed the following chain of events:

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Nelson, parents of the infants, called a pharmacist near their home last week and asked him to call their physician in Berea and obtain a prescription for stomach spasms the babies had suffered since birth.

The druggist was given a prescription by the doctor's secretary calling for 1.5 grains or 1-10th per cent atropine sulphate. The physician denied prescribing that amount of atropine, although the secretary said she passed on accurately the information given her.

Mrs. Nelson gave the twins the medicine Wednesday night, Thursday morning they were dead.

The coroner's office said anything larger than an average, safe dosage of 1-200 to 1-50 grain of atropine is apt to be fatal. Dr. Gerber has been asked to perform an autopsy since the exact ingredients of the prescription were not known.

The Nelsons have three other children, Michael, 4, Allan, 2, and Patricia, 6.

Moscow To Get Appeal from Ike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Radio Moscow is getting a recording of "America the Beautiful."

Samuel J. Williams, who teaches American history at Roosevelt Junior High School here, heard the Russian radio outlet say it didn't have the recording during a program in July. Williams has four short-wave radios for keeping up with world events.

He wrote radio Moscow, offering to send the record if it would be played. The Russians replied by air mail Sept. 26, promising to broadcast the recording and specifying it should be 33 r.p.m.

Williams says his six classes have enthusiastically joined in purchasing the record, which the mother of one student will package for shipment.

3 Cleveland Ford Plants OK Contracts

CLEVELAND (AP) — Workers at the Ford Motor Co.'s three Brook Park plants have ratified local and national agreements. Almost unanimous endorsement was given Sunday by the 2,500 members of United Automobile Workers Local 1250 at the foundry and two engine plants.

chologists must cooperate to solve what is frequently a very difficult diagnostic problem.

Children with hearing losses may need special speech training to develop or maintain good speech, as well as auditory training and lip reading to help compensate for the loss.

INDIVIDUALS with these or other speech problems can find professional help at speech clinics located in universities and colleges, some large hospitals, or run independently by local civic or social organizations.

The Columbus and Central Ohio Speech and Hearing Center, The Ohio State University Speech and Hearing Clinic, and the Ohio University Speech Clinic provide such services within the reach of Pickaway County residents.

Within recent years many communities have begun to provide therapy for speech handicapped children through their own school systems. In 1945, seven therapists were employed in public schools. During the last school year, 162 speech and hearing therapists were employed in Ohio school systems.

Although the great majority of these therapists worked in large city school systems, there is a strong trend toward the employment of therapists by small city and county district school systems.

Ohio public school therapists are certified by the Ohio State Board of Education and usually, like most ethical therapists in clinics and private practice, are members of the American Speech and Hearing Assn.

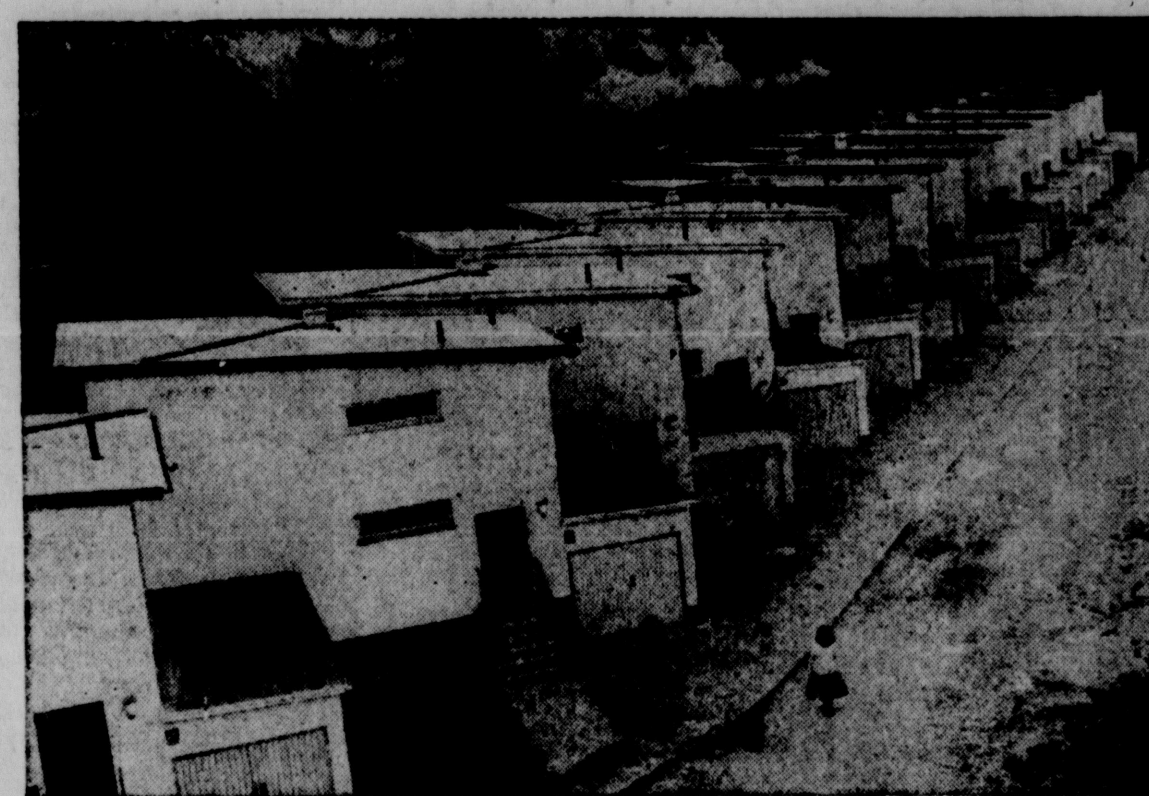

A school speech and hearing therapy program has the advantages of finding and treating cases at an early age, when the prognosis is more favorable than in adulthood, and of making therapy available to families who might not otherwise be able to afford it, or who are located far from urban centers where such clinics are located.

IN A TYPICAL school speech and hearing therapy program, a therapist works with about 90 children in five or six schools, seeing each child for half an hour twice a week, either individually or in a small group.

In some systems, including both the Circleville and county programs, the therapist is also responsible for frequent testing of each child's hearing and referrals to physicians for those having a significant loss.

The County and City Public Health Nurses play an important part in this conservation program, often interpreting the problem to parents and helping to arrange medical examinations. The Pickaway County Society for Crippled Children and Adults, reflecting the interest of the parent organization in speech disorders as handicapping conditions, has provided invaluable support for both the Circleville and County programs.

Some of the equipment needed to begin the county program was purchased by the society and many children enrolled in the therapy program have had special psychological examinations, attended the Ohio Society for Crippled Children's summer camp, or have been provided with hearing aids under the sponsorship of the local group.

WHAT RIGHT TO WORK WILL DO:

Give every man and woman in Ohio freedom to join or not to join a labor union.

Give every man and woman in Ohio freedom to pay or not to pay money to a labor union.

Prohibit compulsory "Union Shop" agreements between employers and labor officials under which an employee must pay union dues or be fired.

Make Unions voluntary organizations controlled by members free to act, investigate, or resign as are religious, farm, political, or other organizations.

Require Union organizers to secure members on the basis of services performed rather than compulsion.

Help correct such abuses of power by some professional union officials as have become a matter of public knowledge.

Return to Union members effective control of the way their dues and assessments are spent.

Stop forced contributions used for furthering ambitious programs of political domination.

Help build public and member confidence in the labor movement.

WHAT RIGHT TO WORK WILL NOT DO:

Not interfere with the legal right of employees to organize and bargain collectively.

Not effect hours, seniority, or pensions.

Not effect wages or bargaining for higher wages.

Not permit any employer to fire anyone because of union membership or non-membership.

Not interfere with union membership campaigns.

Pre-School Speech, Hearing Program Starts In Schools

The following is the first of a series of five articles which will appear in The Circleville Herald. The articles have been prepared by Mrs. Walter May, speech and hearing therapist for the Teays Valley School District.

A program to provide assistance to pre-school children in Pickaway County with speech or hearing handicaps has been announced by county superintendent George McDowell.

Under the new program, county pre-school children referred by their physicians, local agencies or their parents because of a suspected speech or hearing problem, will be examined by a school speech and hearing therapist.

Recommendations for therapy, medical referrals or referrals to various rehabilitation social agencies may be made by the therapist. Where therapy is recommended, but regular trips to Columbus speech clinics are not practical for the child's family, the child may receive therapy at a county school, regardless of age.

According to McDowell, the program is aimed at discovering children with severe speech and hearing handicaps at an early age, when treatment is usually most effective.

IN GENERAL, any child whose speech seems different from the speech of other children of his age group, should be seen by a private or school therapist. On the average, a speech or hearing disorder must be suspected if a child is not using at least two word sentences at three years, or if a child more than four years old cannot be understood.

Where a hearing loss is suspected, a physician or a therapist should examine the child as soon as discovery is noted.

McDowell stated that all county schools have a therapy program. At present, the Teays Valley school district started the school year with a speech and hearing program, and the Logan Elm and Westfall schools have recently employed a therapist. The Circleville school system has a full-time therapy program this year, for the first time in several years.

Parents or physicians wishing to refer a child to the county speech and hearing therapist should call the county superintendent's office, number 60.

Miss Barbara Smith Bride Of Mr. James Gatrell IV

MRS. JAMES HARRISON GATRELL IV

Miss Barbara Harrington Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baker Smith, Portland, Ore., and Mr. James Harrison Gatrell IV, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Harrison Gatrell III, Kingsport and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gatrell, E. Mound St., were married August 30th in Duke University Chapel, Durham, N. C.

The Rev. Barney L. Jones performed the single ring ceremony. The chapel was decorated with cathedral candelabra holding cathedral candles with a background of Mexican Comodoro fern, and floor standards of white asters and white gladioli.

Frank Jordan Jr., organist, presented a program of traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a waltz length gown of Chantilly over white satin with a fitted bodice, scalloped sabrina neckline, and long sleeves ending in points over the wrists. The bouffant tulle skirt featured a lace peplum in handkerchief points.

Her tiered elbow-length veil of imported illusion was attached to a scalloped contour crown of seed pearls. She carried a small cascade of white stephanotis and white Georgeanna orchids.

Miss Marcia Fleming Smith, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Jeanne Manning Smith, sister of the bride, and Miss Jane McDonald, Portland, Ore.

The attendants wore waltz length gowns of embroidered white organza over pink taffeta with scoop necklines, short sleeves, and pink velvet trimming the bodice and forming bows down the back. They wore matching pink velvet headpieces and matching shoes. They carried small crescent bouquets of shell pink asters and Better Times roses.

Michael Andrew Gatrell, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Preston Yockley, uncle of the bridegroom, James H. Newcome and Richard Jones.

The bride's mother wore an aqua dress, and the mother of the bridegroom wore gold.

A reception was given by the bride's parents in the Crystal Ballroom of the Washington Duke Hotel. Approximately 100 guests were present.

For a wedding trip to Jacksonville, Fla., the bride wore an azure blue silk chemise with a bateau neckline and elbow length sleeves. She wore black patent accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The couple plan to reside in Jacksonville.

Pathfinders Set Meeting Time Earlier

The Dorcas Pathfinders Class of the Calvary EUB Church met Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. H. E. Valentine, 210 Walnut St., with nine members present.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Ray Anderson, president, with a reading entitled "The Only Prayer." During the business meeting a donation to the "roofing fund" was made and it was decided to start the class meetings a half-hour earlier during the winter months.

Mrs. Cline suggested the class send a thank-you note to Mrs. Earl Weaver for the flowers she sent for the class meeting. A get-well card was sent to Jeanie Dean.

Mrs. Minnie Lumpe and Mrs. Ella Carothers were in charge of the social hour. Contests were presented with winners being Mrs. Harry Hosler, Mrs. Ralph Heffner and Mrs. Anderson.

Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Mark DeLong and Mrs. Carrie Stout.

The November meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Stout with Mrs. Ralph Heffner, co-hostess.

GATHERED AND belted high for an Empire silhouette is a green Paisley corduroy day dress from Claire McCordell Clothes by Townley.

Household Hints

From the Spanish cuisine: cooked asparagus (use frozen or canned when fresh are out of season) served with poached eggs and accompanied by a vinaigrette sauce — olive oil, vinegar, salt and pepper mixed together.

If you bake yeast-bread rolls at home vary them sometimes by sprinkling some with poppy, some with caraway and the rest with sesame seed.

When a recipe suggests that you use "mixed greens" in a salad you may choose among Boston lettuce, iceberg lettuce, water cress, escarole, endive, chicory, corn salad and romaine.

Yellow vegetables, which should be included in the daily diet, are high in vitamin A.

Miss Streber, Mr. Weaver Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Streber, Route 4, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Myrtle Juanita, to Mrs. James Richard Weaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Weaver, Route 1, Ashville.

Miss Streber is a graduate of Circleville High School and is employed by the Ralston Purina Company.

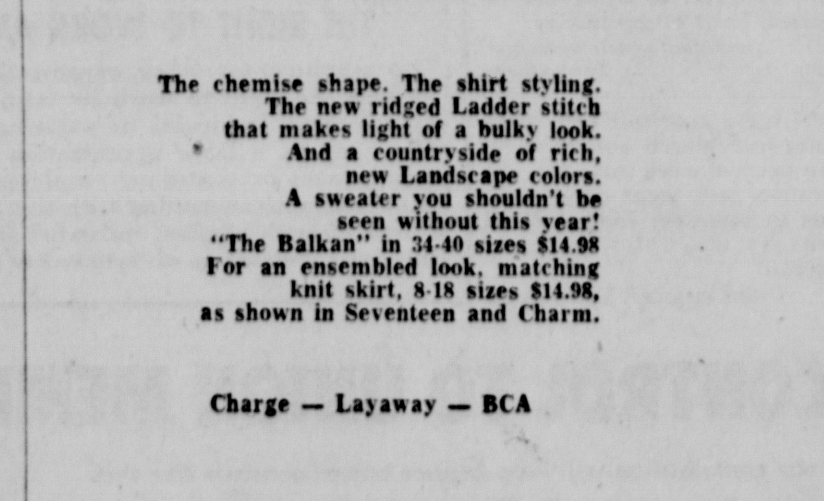

Mr. Weaver is a graduate of Walnut Twp. High School, served two years with the Armed Forces and is an employee of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Company.

The wedding will be an event of the near future.

Observance of 30th Annual Business Women's Week

Observance of the 30th annual National Business Women's Week, October 5-11, is officially announced by Governor C. William O'Neill and Mrs. Chloe Maloney, State President of the Ohio Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Governor O'Neill paid tribute to the Ohio Federation when he presented the Proclamation to Mrs. Maloney declaring "that one week be set aside to pay special tribute to women in business. That the American business woman has earned universal good will for her untiring efforts in meeting the challenge of an expanding business world. That business women dedicate themselves to maintaining the highest levels of business and professional transactions."

The Slogan for the week is "More Power with Woman Power" which will actuate various programs to be presented by local, state and national groups. The Circleville club is planning programs for Thursday evening Oct. 9.

administering a $10,000 grant received from the Automotive Safety Foundation for a nation wide survey of uniform traffic signs, signals and markings.

A few of the accomplishments of the Federation are the prestige of employed women which has been increased; Jury service for women and equal pay legislation in many states; legislation which made woman's branches component parts of the armed services; endorsement of the Merit System in government; endorsement of qualified women for policy-making posts at all levels; the starting of small businesses, marketing of new products and the augmentation of retirement income through small business clinics conducted by the clubs and State Federations; and the establishment of scholarships and loan funds to girls and women for advanced education.

The officers of the Circleville club are Mrs. Harold Defenbaugh, president; Mrs. George Neff, first vice president; Mrs. Robert Ogle, second vice president; Miss Emma Tennant, recording secretary; Dr. Nancy Conrad, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Olan Bostwick, treasurer; Mrs. Anna Chandler, parliamentarian and Miss Ann Gordon, historian.

Of interest to each community where there is a BPW club is the fact that Ohio is the third largest in membership of the states, with 162 clubs and 10,951 members. California is first with Pennsylvania second.

Your Right to Know, Is It in Jeopardy?

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is National Newspaper Week. And why should anybody but a bunch of newspapermen pay much attention?

There are some 2,700,000,000 people on this planet, about half of whom enjoy political freedom.

The others can neither read, speak, nor pray as and when they please. And above all, they can't go inquiring as citizens and taxpayers—and as newsmen—into the affairs of their government.

Which brings us around to the fact that even in the United States, where a knowing electorate is considered the lifeblood of democracy, there are a good many public officials—federal, state, local—who hold that public business should be conducted like a private matter, especially where newspapers are concerned.

And it brings us to the further fact there is a small group, chiefly newspapermen, fighting to preserve the peoples' right to know on the grounds that if they don't know, democracy is headed for the graveyard.

These men are members of organizations little known to the general public, such as the Associated Press Managing Editors Assn., the American Society of Newspaper Editors, the American Newspaper Publishers Assn., and Sigma Delta Chi, a fraternity of professional news gatherers.

Since June 9, 1955, these fighters for the right-to-know have had an ally in the House Subcommittee on Government Information headed by Rep. John Moss (D-Calif.).

Just about every taxpayer complains about the high cost of government, but did you know that:

The Board of Army Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, which handles billions of dollars worth of public works projects, refuses to meet in public or even disclose the votes of board members.

The International Cooperation Administration has refused to make its reports on billions of dollars worth of foreign aid projects public, or even disclose them to Congress or the General Accounting Office which by law is the watchdog over federal spending.

The Defense Department won't even let the General Accounting Office know how it is spending large sums.

The Commerce Department issued orders restricting the meeting of certain officials with congressional committees.

The State Department issued an order restricting contacts between officials and newspapermen seeking background information on foreign policy.

While there is secrecy on the federal level aplenty, it also exists on the state and local level. Boards of education and assorted state and city commissions often meet in secret to set policies and spend public funds.

Through long experience, newspapermen have come to realize that when officials make it a practice to conduct public business in private, the door is open to eventual abuses.

So this business of the public's right to know involves an almost constant struggle on many fronts.

Since World War II it often has appeared that advocates of censorship, secrecy and propaganda have been gaining.

This year the advocates of freedom of information won a major battle though the campaign is far from over.

On Aug. 12 President Eisenhower signed into law a bill aimed at eliminating needless government secrecy. It was a one-line amendment to a 169-year-old law giving department heads the right to set up regulations concerning the use and storage of records.

The original law had been twisted to mean that access to the public's records could be denied merely by regulation. The amendment forbids this. Department heads in the government opposed the measure.

There is some indication of spreading alarm over suppression of information. The University of Missouri has established a Freedom-of-Information Center to keep tabs on abridgement of the public's right to know.

In Virginia the General Assembly passed a resolution urging all agencies of government to grant full access to information.

Right-to-know bills are before the New Jersey Legislature's Judiciary Committee. California already has an open meeting law.

The fight for open meetings lost in Michigan, South Carolina and Kentucky this year but editors have organized to keep up the battle.

Editors have organized in Maine, New Hampshire and West Virginia to fight for the public's right to know. Nebraska and Missouri are launching surveys in secrecy preparatory to a drive for new laws. The Texas Legislature will get a right-to-know bill at its next session.

Florida press groups have endorsed an open meeting proposal. Nevada's editors are planning to seek right-to-know laws next year. South Dakota's editors are in the process of organizing.

STRANGE MURDER CASE—Oct. 6 marks opening of trial in one of the strangest murder cases ever heard in a Georgia courtroom. Voodoo fancying, socially prominent Mrs. Annette Lyles, 32, shown being wheeled into a pre-trial hearing in Macon, is accused of poisoning two husbands, a mother-in-law, and her own 9-year-old daughter.

Inventor Leaves Hobo Life; Fortune May Be Awaiting

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A penniless engineer has returned from a hobo jungle to continue work on collisions and earn him a fortune.

Elmer C. Meukel, a self-taught electronics whiz, came home to his wife and three children Sunday three months after hitting the hobo trail to escape the pressure of mounting bills.

Only slightly less eager than his family to welcome the 41-year-old Meukel back were the officers of the Polaris Engineering Co. of Los Angeles. They say the government is willing to spend five million dollars to develop his invention.

"We're ready to go to work on it right away," said Ben Radatz, president of the firm. The device is designed to detect an oncoming plane and automatically divert the aircraft to avoid a collision.

It was the company's report of the apparent success of Meukel's invention that started the search for him last Sept. 24. A newspaper reporter finally tracked him down in Reno, Nev.

Meukel, who learned engineering through correspondence courses, said he abandoned his family in a fit of despondency last

June after efforts to peddle his motion-detecting device proved unsuccessful, leaving him broke.

"I couldn't stand seeing any more bill collectors come around," he explained. As for why he didn't write all the time he was gone: "I didn't want to write when I didn't have anything to offer."

Meukel said he rode freight cars, hitchhiked and visited relatives before finally settling down in a hobo jungle on an island in the Truckee River at Reno.

Upon his return Meukel learned that another engineering firm, Compaco, Inc., has filed suit for a million dollars damage, claiming Meukel's invention infringes on patents they hold for such a device. Meukel said he was certain his invention was entirely original.

He figures his contract with Polaris should bring him about $35,000 a year if the device works and is successfully marketed.

As he quoted the figure he tightened his arm around his wife Jean. She squeezed him back.

"The money isn't important," she said. "The main thing is you're home."

PATTEN E. PAUSELL

(In co-operation with J. Edgar Hoover, FBI Director, this newspaper is running a series of descriptive articles on criminals wanted by the FBI.)

PATTEN E. PAUSELL is being sought by the FBI for violation of the Interstate Transportation of Stolen Property and the Bail Jumper Statutes.

It is alleged that Paulsell at 13 three Payroll checks from his former employer and, after forging the maker's signature, cashed them.

On Dec. 10, 1956, he was arrested at Tucson, Ariz., on the basis of a warrant charging him with a violation of the Interstate Transportation of Stolen Property Statute, issued by a United States Commissioner on the same date. Paulsell was released on $1,000 bond pending Grand Jury action. On Jan. 23, 1957, a Federal Grand Jury returned an indictment charging Paulsell with violation of the Interstate Transportation of Stolen Property Statute.

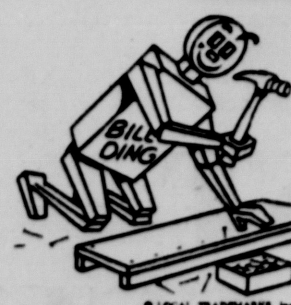

The case was set for hearing and arraignment on Feb. 25, 1957, but Paulsell failed to appear. On the same date the court ordered the bond forfeited and a bench warrant was issued. A complaint was filed before a United States Commissioner on May 8, 1957, charging Paulsell with violation of the Bail Jumper Statute.

The fugitive has been previously convicted for grand theft and interstate transportation of a stolen motor vehicle.

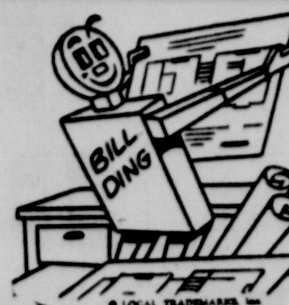

DESCRIPTION: Age 25; Born, Holbrook, Ariz. (not supported by birth records); Height, 5 feet 11; Weight, 155 to 175; Build, slender to medium; Hair, black; Eyes, brown; Complexion, medium. Scars on forehead, vaccination scar on left upper arm, tattoos "Pat Paulsell," "RA 19450118," "Jeanne" on a ribbon circling a heart on left forearm, and tattoos "If you can read this you're too darned close," and skull and cross on right forearm. Paulsell has been previously employed as an electrician, and service station operator.

INFORMATION concerning fugitive should be telephoned to the nearest FBI office. Distributed by King Features Syndicate

Your Right to Know, Is It in Jeopardy?

WASHINGTON (U—) This is National Newspaper Week. And why should anybody but a bunch of newspapermen pay much attention?

There are some 2,700,000,000 people on this planet, about half of whom enjoy political freedom.

The others can neither read, speak, nor pray as and when they please. And above all, they can't go inquiring as citizens and taxpayers—and as newsmen—into the affairs of their government.

Which brings us around to the fact that even in the United States, where a knowing electorate is considered the lifeblood of democracy, there are a good many public officials—federal, state, local—who hold that public business should be conducted like a private matter, especially where newspapers are concerned.

And it brings us to the further fact there is a small group, chiefly newspapermen, fighting to preserve the peoples' right to know on the grounds that if they don't know, democracy is headed for the graveyard.

These men are members of organizations little known to the general public, such as the Associated Press Managing Editors Assn., the American Society of Newspaper Editors, the American Newspaper Publishers Assn., and Sigma Delta Chi, a fraternity of professional news gatherers.

Since June 9, 1955, these fighters for the right-to-know have had an ally in the House Subcommittee on Government Information headed by Rep. John Moss (D-Calif.).

Just about every taxpayer complains about the high cost of government, but did you know that: The Board of Army Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, which handles billions of dollars worth of public works projects, refuses to meet in public or even disclose the votes of board members.

The International Cooperation Administration has refused to make its reports on billions of dollars worth of foreign aid projects public, or even disclose them to Congress or the General Accounting Office which by law is the watchdog over federal spending.

The Defense Department won't even let the General Accounting Office know how it is spending large sums.

The Commerce Department is issued orders restricting the meeting of certain officials with congressional committees.

The State Department issued an order restricting contacts between officials and newspapermen seeking background information on foreign policy.

While there is secrecy on the federal level aplenty, it also exists on the state and local level. Boards of education and assorted state and city commissions often meet in secret to set policies and spend public funds.

Through long experience, newspapermen have come to realize that when officials make it a practice to conduct public business in private, the door is open to eventual abuses.

So this business of the public's right to know involves an almost constant struggle on many fronts.

Since World War II it often has appeared that advocates of censorship, secrecy and propaganda have been gaining.

This year the advocates of freedom of information won a major battle though the campaign is far from over.

On Aug. 12 President Eisenhower signed into law a bill aimed at eliminating needless government secrecy. It was a one-line amendment to a 169-year-old law giving department heads the right to set up regulations concerning the use and storage of records.

The original law had been twisted to mean that access to the public's records could be denied merely by regulation. The amendment forbids this. Department heads in the government opposed the measure.

There is some indication of spreading alarm over suppression of information. The University of Missouri has established a Freedom-of-Information Center to keep tabs on abridgment of the public's right to know.

In Virginia the General Assembly passed a resolution urging all agencies of government to grant full access to information.

Right-to-know bills are before the New Jersey Legislature's Judiciary Committee. California already has an open meeting law.

The fight for open meetings lost in Michigan, South Carolina and Kentucky this year but editors have organized to "keep up the battle."

Editors have organized in Maine, New Hampshire and West Virginia to fight for the public's right to know. Nebraska and Missouri are launching surveys in secrecy preparatory to a drive for new laws. The Texas Legislature will get a right-to-know bill at its next session.

Florida press groups have endorsed an open meeting proposal. Nevada's editors are planning to seek right-to-know laws next year. South Dakota's editors are in the process of organizing.

STRANGE MURDER CASE—Oct. 6 marks opening of trial in one of the strangest murder cases ever heard in a Georgia courtroom. Voodoo fancying, socially prominent Mrs. Annette Lyles, 32, shown being wheeled into a pre-trial hearing in Macon, is accused of poisoning two husbands, a mother-in-law, and her own 9-year-old daughter.

HYPNOTIST FAILS TO BREAK THE HABIT—A few seconds after a British hypnotist declared he had transatlantic-talked ($36 toll) his subject out of his craving for a cigarette, the subject, Harold Scott, grabbed a cigarette and puffed away in Rochester, Minn. Scott consumes three packages of cigarettes a day. He is holding a picture of the hypnotist, Henry Blythe, of Torquay, England. They planned to try again.

Inventor Leaves Hobo Life; Fortune May Be Awaiting

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A penniless engineer has returned from a hobo jungle to continue work on collisions and earn him a fortune. Elmer C. Meukel, a self-taught electronics whiz, came home to his wife and three children Sunday three months after hitting the hobo trail to escape the pressure of mounting bills.

Only slightly less eager than his family to welcome the 41-year-old Meukel back were the officers of the Polaris Engineering Co. of Los Angeles. They say the government is willing to spend five million dollars to develop his invention.

"We're ready to go to work on it right away," said Ben Radatz, president of the firm. The device is designed to detect an oncoming plane and automatically divert the aircraft to avoid a collision.

It was the company's report of the apparent success of Meukel's invention that started the search for him last Sept. 24. A newspaper reporter finally tracked him down in Reno, Nev.

Meukel, who learned engineering through correspondence courses, said he abandoned his family in a fit of despondency last

June after efforts to peddle his motion-detecting device proved unsuccessful, leaving him broke.

"I couldn't stand seeing any more bill collectors come around," he explained. As for why he didn't write all the time he was gone: "I didn't want to write when I didn't have anything to offer."

Meukel said he rode freight cars, hitchhiked and visited relatives before finally settling down in a hobo jungle on an island in the Truckee River at Reno.

Upon his return Meukel learned that another engineering firm, Compaco, Inc., has filed suit for a million dollars damage, claiming Meukel's invention infringes on patents they hold for such a device. Meukel said he was certain his invention was entirely original.

He figures his contract with Polaris should bring him about $35,000 a year if the device works and is successfully marketed.

As he quoted the figure he tightened his arm around his wife Jean. She squeezed him back. "The money isn't important," she said. "The main thing is you're home."

U.S. Industry Hails End of Auto Strike

Peace in Detroit Seen Boon to Continuation Of Nation's Recovery

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — With the auto industry assured of at least relative labor peace for three years one big worry has been removed for business. The outlook for industry in general is much brighter today. An auto strike would have slammed the brakes on the recovery.

Now steel can look forward to a good fourth quarter with certainty. The auto industry will also be using large quantities of copper, lead, zinc, rubber, glass and textiles.

This seems sure for weeks ahead. Consumer reaction to the new models will be the final determinant. But until that is tested, the auto industry will be turning out new cars in quantity.

Another big worry for business is being allayed. The consumer is going into debt again.

To business that means that consumer confidence is rising — that people feel certain enough about their future income to mortgage some of it in advance to buy things they want now.

Consumer credit has turned up after a six months drop and to totals $3 1/2 billion dollars. If the new auto models catch on, this debt probably will take still another jump this fall.

Americans also have been taking on home mortgage debt at a big clip, increasing this total by more than two billion dollars in the second quarter of the year, with no indication that the pace has slackened since.

Construction spending also is on the rise. More home building has been a factor, but the increase in public construction has given the total its biggest upward push.

Retail sales have held remarkably steady all through the recession. They dipped in areas hardest hit by unemployment and sloughed off generally in durable goods. But this was made up elsewhere by increased spending for food, for many other types of soft goods, and for a wide variety of services.

Now the total is rising all along the line. Appliance people say the customers are coming back. Merchants think the new feeling of confidence augurs well for a record Christmas in most lines and most areas.

Economists may worry about the inflationary implications of the wage-price spiral and of the 12-billion-dollar federal deficit. They may worry about the upsetting potentials of more international friction.

They may worry about the heights to which stock prices have climbed. They may worry about what would happen to confidence in the future if the new autos flopped and this prop to the economy should be removed abruptly after the first flush of production and sales promotion.

They may even worry lest the total of debt that consumers are taking on should prove too heavy.

But the public seems sure none of these is going to happen or mean too much if it does. So the public is cutting back on its rate of saving, is buying a little more, but with an eye on prices, and is increasing its personal debt.

Call for Volunteer Cops Proves To Be Colossal Flop

AURORA, Ill. (AP) — Another episode in the comedy-drama featuring the perils of Paul Egan, Aurora mayor, and the city's cops was unfolded before a late matinee audience Sunday. It was a colossal flop.

Egan, at a special emergency meeting of citizens, called for 100 volunteers from the crowd of about 350 to police the city. They would, he said, replace the 68-man police force he has suspended.

Only 11 persons raised their hands to Egan's clarion call.

Egan had opened the meeting by reading a statement in which he blasted away on numerous subjects and said the world is generally going to pot.

He ended it very quickly after the show of hands, saying: "Thank you, good night."

As the so-called emergency meeting was going on in the City Council chambers upstairs in City Hall, downstairs more than 40 of the cops Egan has suspended patrolled the corridors.

They were on the job under orders of the fired police chief to resist by force if necessary any attempt by the fiery little mayor to take over the police department.

But Egan's latest attempt to make stick his orders firing Chief Donald Curran and the police force fizzled. The City Council has backed Curran and the policemen in their refusal to obey Egan.

The controversial 60-year-old mayor didn't appear dismayed by the lack of volunteers for a police force. He didn't appear any too

3 Ohioana Awards To Be Presented

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Safety Council next Wednesday will grant awards to five Ohioans for actions which contributed directly to the saving of lives in the state during the last year.

Ralph R. West of Cleveland, council president, said recognition will go to:

Gov. C. William O'Neill for directing that Ohio highways be edge-lined in white to make visibility easier by day and night. The edge-lining project is credited by traffic engineers with helping reduce Ohio's highway toll.

Paul Koch and Peter Dubois of Sandusky for saving the lives of James A. Moore and Wayne V. Roth who fell through thin ice while skating on Sandusky Bay last Jan. 6.

Ashley F. Ward of Cincinnati, who devised a mobile, powered, portable test lane for use in bicycle proficiency and mechanical capability testing, which he contributed to the Cincinnati Safety Council and the city of Cincinnati.

Paul W. Bush, former Mansfield mayor and now a councilman there, for his sponsorship of "Safety Town," a nationally recognized training area in which pre-school youngsters are taught to observe traffic signals and signs, crosswalk markings and other safety devices.

Man Who Saw Visions Sent To Hospital

J. T. Squyres, Circleville, recently was ordered by the Pickaway County Probate Court to be sent to the Columbus State Hospital for treatment.

This climaxes five months of repeated attempts by the county probate court to dispose of this case. Squyres first came to the attention of the county court on March 20 after he was remanded to the custody of the county jail under $500 peace bond.

According to the court record, Squyres had threatened the lives of three local persons, and when he was before the Circleville Municipal Court he explained to Judge Sterling Lamb that he saw visions of God.

He maintained this line of testimony before the probate court and was sent to the State Hospital for observation. After two months he was returned here and immediately demanded an examination by a psychiatrist, which was accomplished.

Last week, Squyres still maintained he was sane. Judge Guy G. Cline committed him.

U.S. Industry Hails End of Auto Strike

Peace in Detroit Seen Boon to Continuation Of Nation's Recovery

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — With the auto industry assured of at least relative labor peace for three years one big worry has been removed for business. The outlook for industry in general is much brighter today. An auto strike would have slammed the brakes on the recovery.

Now steel can look forward to a good fourth quarter with certainty. The auto industry will also be using large quantities of copper, lead, zinc, rubber, glass and textiles.

This seems sure for weeks ahead. Consumer reaction to the new models will be the final determinant. But until that is tested, the auto industry will be turning out new cars in quantity.

Another big worry for business is being allayed. The consumer is going into debt again.

To business that means that consumer confidence is rising — that people feel certain enough about their future income to mortgage some of it in advance to buy things they want now.

Consumer credit has turned up after a six months drop and totals $3 1/2 billion dollars. If the new auto models catch on, this debt probably will take still another jump this fall.

Americans also have been taking on home mortgage debt at a big clip, increasing this total by more than two billion dollars in the second quarter of the year, with no indication that the pace has slackened since.

Construction spending also is on the rise. More home building has been a factor, but the increase in public construction has given the total its biggest upward push.

Retail sales have held remarkably steady all through the recession. They dipped in areas hardest hit by unemployment and sloughed off generally in durable goods. But this was made up elsewhere by increased spending for food, for many other types of soft goods, and for a wide variety of services.

Now the total is rising all along the line. Appliance people say the customers are coming back. Merchants think the new feeling of confidence augurs well for a record Christmas in most lines and most areas.

Economists may worry about the inflationary implications of the wage-price spiral and of the 12-billion-dollar federal deficit. They may worry about the upsetting potentials of more international friction.

They may worry about the heights to which stock prices have climbed. They may worry about what would happen to confidence in the future if the new autos flopped and this prop to the economy should be removed abruptly after the first flush of production and sales promotion.

They may even worry lest the total of debt that consumers are taking on should prove top heavy.

But the public seems sure none of these is going to happen or mean too much if it does. So the public is cutting back on its rate of saving, is buying a little more, but with an eye on prices, and is increasing its personal debt.

Call for Volunteer Cops Proves To Be Colossal Flop

AURORA, Ill. (AP) — Another episode in the comedy-drama featuring the perils of Paul Egan, Aurora mayor, and the city's cops was unfolded before a late matinee audience Sunday. It was a colossal flop.

Egan, at a special emergency meeting of citizens, called for 100 volunteers from the crowd of about 350 to police the city. They would, he said, replace the 68-man police force he has suspended.

Only 11 persons raised their hands to Egan's clarion call. Egan had opened the meeting by reading a statement in which he blasted away on numerous subjects and said the world is generally going to pot.

He ended it very quickly after the show of hands, saying: "Thank you, good night."

As the so-called emergency meeting was going on in the City Council chambers upstairs in City Hall, downstairs more than 40 of the cops Egan has suspended patrolled the corridors.

They were on the job under orders of the fired police chief to resist by force if necessary any attempt by the fiery little mayor to take over the police department.

But Egan's latest attempt to make stick his orders firing Chief Donald Curran and the police force fizzled. The City Council has backed Curran and the policemen in their refusal to obey Egan.

The controversial 60-year-old mayor didn't appear dismayed by the lack of volunteers for a police force. He didn't appear any too happy either. He told newsmen he didn't know what was going to happen next.

Egan's feud with Curran and the cops erupted a week ago after a dispute over bingo. Egan, in his second four-year term, has been in previous disputes and Curran is the 11th chief he has appointed.

Man Who Saw Visions Sent To Hospital

J. T. Squyres, Circleville, recently was ordered by the Pickaway County Probate Court to be sent to the Columbus State Hospital for treatment.

This climaxes five months of repeated attempts by the county probate court to dispose of this case. Squyres first came to the attention of the county court on March 20 after he was remanded to the custody of the county jail under $500 peace bond.

According to the court record, Squyres had threatened the lives of three local persons, and when he was before the Circleville Municipal Court he explained to Judge Sterling Lamb that he saw visions of God.

He maintained this line of testimony before the probate court and was sent to the State Hospital for observation. After two months he was returned here and immediately demanded an examination by a psychiatrist, which was accomplished.

Last week, Squyres still maintained he was sane. Judge Guy G. Cline committed him.

High Scores Feature Six-Man Grid Show

By J. I. SMITH
Herald Staff Writer

Saturday night's Pickaway County Six-Man football games turned out to be one-sided affairs. Walnut, Darby and Stoutsville all rang up easy victories.

Darby started the evening off with a 46-7 romp over a harried and rushed Salt Creek. Walnut allowed Scioto to get the scent of victory before closing the doors with a convincing 40-18 win. The Indians of Stoutsville climaxed the evening's entertainment with a 33-13 scalping of Pickaway.

Walnut's Dave Smith provided the fans with a sensational exhibition of scoring as he racked up 38 points of his team's 40 points with six touchdowns and two extra points. The young Tiger senior was unstoppable as he ran the Scioto ends with the ease of an All-American.

No other individuals could top Smith's performance Saturday night but the entire Darby team deserved a pat on the back. Nothing could go wrong with Darby's attack and its six starters played a whale of a ball game.

STOUTSVILLE'S Randall Crites and Richard Bussert teamed up against Pickaway with some razzle dazzle offense, after the Pirates took a 13-0 lead in the first quarter.

Losing team stars included Pickaway's Dave Petty and Jerry Anderson, who led Pickaway to an early spurt, only to see it die out against an experienced Stoutsville. Scioto's Little brothers, Duke, Terry and Ronnie, fought to the wire and Salt Creek's Valentine brothers, Gary, Denny and Kenny, stole the Warrior show.

Darby ran to a 33-0 lead and the crowd expected the game to be called (When a team obtains a 45-point lead the game is called, according to official six-man rules). At this point the Warriors scored on a Gary Valentine-to-George Clifton pass, which covered 59 yards and a touchdown.

The 33-0 Darby lead was gained on runs of seven and four yards by Yoakum after some fine defensive play by Musselman. The stellar end tackled Jack Fout hard on the ensuing kickoff, the ball was fumbled and Jerry Vance picked up the loose pigskin and ran for another score.

Walters' 22-yard run made the score 26-0. Musselman blocked a Valentine kick on the next series from scrimmage. Tommy Liff picked up the ball and ran for the TD.

Then the long-awaited Salt Creek score. Clifton cut across the middle for a pass and ran unhampered for the tally. Roger Clarke passed to Denny Valentine for the extra point score. Score, Darby 33-Salt Creek 7.

In the second half Darby scored on runs of 12 yards by Wardell and four yards by Walters. Final score, Darby 46-Salt Creek 7.

Special credit should be given Musselman, who ably led the Darby defense. He was capably assisted by Liff, Wardell and Walters. Salt Creek's Fout, Clarke, G. Valentine and Clifton did well against superior odds.

The Walnut battle was Smith versus Scioto. The agile speedster scored on runs of 7, 13, 45, 52 and 39 yards. He also drop-kicked a two-point extra point and passed for the two other points.

The Tigers soared into a 26-0 lead before a crowd of 300 was settled. Then the roof fell in on the offensive minded Tigers.

Scioto rallied to within six points of taking the lead. Walnut started the Buffalo rally by fumbling in the middle of the second quarter in its own territory. A Bob Whiteside-to-Roy Sanders pass was good for 25 yards and the score.

The halftime score read, Walnut 26-Scioto 6. But this was quickly changed at the onset of the second half on a Walnut fumble that was recovered by T. Little. Sanders passed to T. Little for the TD. The extra point kick was blocked. Score Walnut 26-Scioto 12.

SCIOTO proceeded to kick after the touchdown. The ball hit the chest of Walnut's Clarence Gray and was recovered by Duke Little. A repeat Sanders-to-Little pass was good for 30 yards and a score.

Then the stage was set for Smith's runs of 52 and 39 yards and an end to the Buffalo hopes of victory.

The game's final score came as a result of another Walnut fumble which was picked up by T. Little. The elder of the three Little brothers ran 45 yards for the score. T. Little ran for the extra point.

Walnut's defenses were led by quarterback Tom Harber, halfbacks Smith and Ronald Tussing and end, Melvin Stepp. Scioto was paced by the Littles, who garnered the majority of the tackles.

Walnut attempted eight passes and completed four. Scioto passed 27 times and completed seven. The Tigers fumbled four times and lost the ball to Scioto each time. Scioto fumbled twice, losing the ball once to Walnut.

THE PIRATES almost pilfered

Crucial Tilt with Greenfield On Tap for Tigers Friday

Practice sessions for the Circleville Tigers this week will center around the coming trip to Greenfield Friday night for a crucial South Central Ohio League contest.

It will be the first road game of the season for the Tigers and it will be an important one. To date the locals are 2-0 in league play while Greenfield has won its only loop game played.

In a mutual comparison of the two teams, Circleville's downed Wilmington, 21-12, two weeks ago. Greenfield trounced the same Wilmington outfit, 12-0, Friday night.

Circleville had the advantage of clipping Wilmington on the local gridiron while Greenfield did the job on the losers' field. These statistics indicate that both teams will be about evenly matched for Friday night's engagement.

CHS WILL be looking for its third SCOL victory and fourth in five starts. Friday night the locals ran headlong into a stubborn Hillsboro crew which gave plenty of trouble before the Tigers were able to emerge with a 10-0 decision.

The Tigers opened the season with an 18-14 verdict over Athens, lost to Columbus Rosary, 6-0, then bumped Wilmington and Hillsboro on successive Fridays.

Greenfield, defending champions of the SCOL, tied Jackson, 6-6 in its season opener, downed Waverly, 8-0, tied Chillicothe, 8-8, then smashed Wilmington Friday.

CHS came out of the Hillsboro test with minor bumps and bruises, although middle guard Marion Morrison suffered a painful pulled muscle which may keep him under wraps most of this week. An absence of the rugged lineman would seriously handicap the Tigers' defensive which will need all available manpower to stop McClain's vaunted ground attack. Against Hillsboro, the Tigers a victory from Stoutsville as Pickaway grabbed a 13-0 first quarter lead. The first marker came on a sustained drive, capped by Anderson's five yard run. Anderson passed to Gail Wolfe for the extra point.

The Indians moved to the Pickaway one yard line where they were held and lost the ball on downs. On the first Pirate play from scrimmage, Petty raced from his own one inch line for a 79 yard score. An extra point kick try was missed.

Stoutsville came to life in the second quarter and moved downfield with a passing attack. Bussert carried the ball over from the one yard line on an end run.

A bad third quarter center on a Pickaway fourth down punting situation forced Anderson to throw a short pass to Petty, which failed to make the necessary first down yardage.

Stoutsville took over on the Pirate 11 yard line. Crites ran the 11 yards for the TD.

Pickaway became rattled and fumbled after the kickoff allowing Stoutsville to recover. On three successive runs Bussert carried for the TD.

Early in the fourth quarter Bussert passed to Crites for a 28 yard TD. Crites passed to M. Guseman for the extra point. Score, Stoutsville 25-Pickaway 13.

The Indians final score came on two 20-yard runs by Bussert and the final yardage was covered on a Crites-to-Guseman pass good for six yards and a TD. Bussert ran for the extra point. Final score, Stoutsville 33-Pickaway 13.

Stoutsville's defenses were led by Donald Guseman, Bussert and M. Guseman. Bussert proved Saturday night to be the hardest driving runner of the league. Combined with the deadly passing attack of Crites, the Indians will prove a formidable foe for Walnut in the final night of league play.

The Pirates defense, which got quite a workout, was led by Anderson, Petty, Richard Dean and Bill Harrah. Joe Goeller was also added to the Pickaway running attack.

Next week the chips will be down as Walnut and Darby, both undefeated, will meet each other for a possible league championship. Their game will start at 7:45 p. m.

Pickaway and Scioto will meet at 6:30 p. m. and the final game of the evening will pit Stoutsville against Salt Creek.

Darby and Walnut lead the league with three victories apiece, followed by Stoutsville with two wins and a loss. Scioto is in fourth position with a win and two defeats. Pickaway and Salt Creek are in last place with three straight losses.

missed numerous scoring opportunities by not being able to maintain a consistent offense. Coach Tom Bennett said this deficiency will get number one priority in practice this week.

Greenfield's potential seems to center around backs Pat Williams, Don Mossbarger and Dick Craft and veteran end Sam Grooms.

WILLIAMS was McClain's leading ground gainer in the Wilmington test, accumulating 56 yards in 14 tries. Mossbarger went 48 yards in seven carries and scored both touchdowns.

Grooms sparked as a pass receiver, with most of the aerials being tossed by quarterback Craft.

Siebern Admits He Goofed Badly

NEW YORK (AP) — Norm Siebern, at 25, is a young man with a crewcut who has completed his first full year in the majors. He also is the goat of the fourth game of the World Series, but he won't make any excuses.

Likely as not, there are no excuses to be made.

hopped past him into the left field boxes for a ground rule double. Eddie Mathews followed with a double off the right field scoreboard, scoring Logan with run No. 3.

In the meantime, Spahn simply mesmerized the Yankee hitters. Mickey Mantle, with a tremendous 425-foot triple in the fourth, and Bill Skowron, with a single in the seventh, were the only batters to fathom his delivery. The 37-year-old southpaw, who called it the best game he had pitched all year, walked two and struck out seven. He appeared stronger at the finish, getting the last nine men.

Warren Spahn, the brilliant southpaw, held the Yankees to two hits Sunday. The day before, they managed four hits in their only winning game. Their team batting average is a microscopic .168. Their fielding percentage is a respectable .988 but it doesn't show the many mental lapses and errors of omission.

Stengel, frankly chagrined over the failure of Whitey Ford, his left handed ace, to register at least one victory in two starts, nominated Bob Turley to pitch the "must" fifth game. The fire-balling right-hander was shelled out in the first inning of the second game of the series last Thursday.

It is not surprising, therefore, that the odds-makers have declined to accept any more Milwaukee money that the Braves will win the series. For today's game, however, the Yankees were favored 13-10.

Yankee left fielder Norm Siebern was the "goat" in New York's loss Sunday. He allowed four drives to fall out of his reach, all of which appeared "catchable." These lapses figured in all the scoring and ruined an otherwise fine pitching performance by Ford.

"OVER" RIGHT TACKLE — Michigan State fullback Dean Look (24) literally goes over the right side of the Michigan line for two yards during the second quarter of their game at East Lansing, Mich. He is stopped by Michigan's Tony Rio (37) and George Genyk (70). With Michigan leading throughout the game, State pounded 97 yards in the dying minutes to tie the game, and missing the extra point, just managed to pull out a 12-to-12 tie with arch-rival Michigan.

Braves' Pitcher Today Noted as A Yankee Killer

NEW YORK (AP)—This could be it. The World Series could end today.

The once mighty New York Yankees appear ready to take the count. They've never been as "down" as they are right now. It would appear that Manager Casey Stengel would have to be a miracle man to get them up again.

The stage appeared set too. The pitcher the American League champions must get by today in order to stay alive is that old Yankee killer himself, Lew Burdette. He's beaten the Yankees four-for-four in the last two series.

The Yankees dropped their third in four games to the Braves Sunday 3-0. The loss was in the pattern of the pair they lost in Milwaukee—woeful hitting and leaky fielding.

Norm, 25, normally a good fielder, just had a bad day. The strong sun and the shadow-making third deck behind home plate didn't help him either. In the fifth, he failed to get a jump on Del Crandall's fly and it fell at his feet for a single. No damage.

In the sixth, he got over to Red Schoendienst's long fly to left center, then decided to let Mickey Mantle, who had come over, take it. Neither did. The ball rolled between them for a triple. Shortstop Tony Kubek's error of Johnny Logan's grounder scored Red with the Braves' first run.

In the seventh, after a walk and Andy Pafko's double had put Milwaukee runners on second and third with one out, Spahn blooped a fly to short left. Siebern hesitated, charged in, and stopped. The ball dropped at his feet for a run-scoring single.

In the eighth, Logan sent a routine fly to left. Siebern flipped down his sun-glasses — and lost the ball altogether. The ball hopped past him into the left field boxes for a ground rule double. Eddie Mathews followed with a double off the right field scoreboard, scoring Logan with run No. 3.

2 Sophomores Leading Browns

Plum, Brown Sparkle As Cleveland Roms

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A pair of sophomores in the pay-for-play ranks — Milt Plum and Jimmy Brown — are threatening to again make the Cleveland Browns the dominant force in the National Football League.

The two youngsters, Plum is 23, Brown 22, have provided Coach Paul Brown's team with an awesome offense comparable to the attack Cleveland was able to mobilize in the days of Otto Graham & Co.

Plum, former Penn State star, passed for two touchdowns and completed 13 of 14 passes for 197 yards Sunday. Brown, an All-America at Syracuse, scored three touchdowns and carried the ball for 129 yards. The result: the Browns scored consecutive victory, a 45-12 whacking of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Meanwhile there were a couple of other surprises as the NFL split the second week of the season over two days.

Saturday night, Baltimore's Colts broke Lenny Moore loose for four touchdowns as they displayed a strong attack in rolling up a 51-38 score over the previously unbeaten Chicago Bears. The Cardinals, usually looked upon as Chicago's poor sisters, upset the Washington Redskins 37-10.

In other Sunday action, Philadelphia defeated favored New York 27-24, Los Angeles belted San Francisco 33-3 with the 49ers' Joe Perry setting a career rushing record, and Detroit and Green Bay played a 13-13 tie.

Cleveland was so superior that Plum and Brown sat out the final quarter. Plum's TD passes went to Pete Brewster on an eighty-yarder and to Bob Mitchell, for 21. Brown notched his scores on runs of 23, 59 and three yards.

The Colts struck for three touchdowns in the first six minutes to knock off the Bears, undefeated in six exhibitions and the league opener.

San Francisco's Perry gained 44 yards, surpassing Steve Van Buren's lifetime mark by 17 yards. Perry now has rushed 5,877 yards in a nine-year career.

Boosters Send Tigers to Game

Circleville Tiger football members were special guests of the local Booster Club which provided tickets for Saturday's Ohio State University-Washington grid battle at Columbus.

Sending the team to the game represented one of the many sports functions conducted by the Boosters here each year. The Tiger gridders traveled to Columbus by cars and attended the game as a group.

Finsterwald Wins Pro Golf Title

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Dow Finsterwald has been named professional golfer of the year, the Professional Golfers' Assn. announced Saturday.

Harold Sargent, PGA president, said Finsterwald won by a landslide in a poll of PGA members and representatives of the press. Finsterwald, 29, the 1958 PGA champion from Tequesta, Fla., received 427 of the 755 votes cast: A distant second was Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., with 133.

High Scores Feature Six-Man Grid Show

By J. I. SMITH
Herald Staff Writer

Saturday night's Pickaway County Six-Man football games turned out to be one-sided affairs. Walnut, Darby and Stoutsville all rang up easy victories.

Darby started the evening off with a 46-7 romp over a harried and rushed Saltcreek. Walnut allowed Scioto to get the scent of victory before closing the doors with a convincing 40-18 win. The Indians of Stoutsville climaxed the evening's entertainment with a 33-13 scalping of Pickaway.

Walnut's Dave Smith provided the fans with a sensational exhibition of scoring as he racked up 38 points of his team's 40 points with six touchdowns and two extra points. The young Tiger senior was unstoppable as he ran the Scioto ends with the ease of an All-American.

No other individuals could top Smith's performance Saturday night but the entire Darby team deserved a pat on the back. Nothing could go wrong with Darby's attack and its six starters played a whale of a ball game.

STOUTSVILLE'S Randall Crites and Richard Bussert teamed up against Pickaway with some razzle dazzle offense, after the Pirates took a 13-0 lead in the first quarter.

Losing team stars included Pickaway's Dave Petty and Jerry Anderson, who led Pickaway to an early spurt, only to see it die out against an experienced Stoutsville; Scioto's Little brothers, Duke, Terry and Ronnie, fought to the wire and Saltcreek's Valentine brothers, Gary, Denny and Kenny, stole the Warrior show.

Darby ran to a 33-0 lead and the crowd expected the game to be called (When a team obtains a 45-point lead the game is called, according to official six-man rules). At this point the Warriors scored on a Gary Valentine-to-George Clifton pass, which covered 59 yards and a touchdown.

The 33-0 Darby lead was gained

Irish-Army Farewell To Be Important

Saturday's Clash Due To Affect National Collegiate Grid Ranks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Notre Dame and Army meet for the last time in their current series Saturday and it couldn't be a more important farewell.

Both teams have set this year as the target date for a high spot in the national rankings and both, so far, have showed they mean it. Army is ranked No. 5 in the weekly Associated Press poll and Notre Dame No. 7. No one at either Army or Notre Dame appears ready to say when—if ever—the series will be resumed.

It will prove a mighty test for Army's bazooka offense. Army beat Penn State 26-0 Saturday, doing all its scoring in the first half. Coach Red Blaik apparently didn't want the Irish scouts to see too much, so the wraps were placed over the Cadets in the second half.

Oklahoma, No. 1, had a scare, winning by 6-0 against Oregon, one of the top defensive clubs in the country.

This week the Sooners take on Texas, the lone undefeated team in the Southwest Conference. The Longhorns whipped Texas Tech last week.

There are a couple of potential upsets down for Saturday when Michigan State plays Pitt and Iowa goes against Indiana.

The Spartans are advertised as being the No. 1 threat to Ohio State in the Big Ten (they don't play each other). But they could do no better than a 12-12 standoff against Michigan in their last outing.

Pitt, which dearly would love to win the Eastern title, had no easy time against Minnesota (13-7). The Panthers have a rough schedule including both Army and Notre Dame. Even if they don't win, this one will toughen them up for the big ones to come.

As for Iowa, another Big Ten topnotcher and rated No. 8 in the AP poll, the Hawkeyes were held to a 13-13 tie by the Air Force Academy.

Iowa has a date with conference foe Indiana, which turned back tough West Virginia 13-12.

Auburn, ranked second to Oklahoma and the national champion last year, plays Kentucky. The Tigers whipped Chattanooga 30-8 and appear too tough for Kentucky.

Third-rated Ohio State, which had its worries with Washington, 12-7, tangles with Illinois, which lost to Duke 15-13. This, too, could be close.

California licked Washington State 34-14 in the NCAA's Television Game of the Week, and in an upset of sorts, Tennessee, in the midst of a rebuilding program, trounced Mississippi State 13-8.

on runs of seven and four yards by Yoakum after some fine defensive play by Musselman. The stellar end tackled Jack Fout hard on the ensuing kickoff, the ball was fumbled and Jerry Vance picked up the loose pigskin and ran for another score.

Walters' 22-yard run made the score 26-0. Musselman blocked a Valentine kick on the next series from scrimmage. Tommy Liff picked up the ball and ran for the TD.

Then the long-awaited Saltcreek score. Clifton cut across the middle for a pass and ran unhindered for the tally. Roger Clarke passed to Denny Valentine for the extra point score. Score, Darby 33-Saltcreek 7.

In the second half Darby scored on runs of 12 yards by Wardell and four yards by Walters. Final score, Darby 46-Saltcreek 7.

Special credit should be given Musselman, who ably led the Darby defense. He was capably assisted by Liff, Wardell and Walters. Saltcreek's Fout, Clarke, G. Valentine and Clifton did well against superior odds.

The Walnut battle was Smith versus Scioto. The agile speedster scored on runs of 7, 13, 45, 5, 32 and 39 yards. He also drop-kicked a two-point extra point and passed for the two other points.

The Tigers soared into a 26-0 lead before a crowd of 300 was settled. Then the roof fell in on the offensive minded Tigers.

Scioto rallied to within six points of taking the lead. Walnut started the Buffalo rally by fumbling in the middle of the second quarter in its own territory. A Bob Whiteside-to-Roy Sanders pass was good for 25 yards and the score.

The halftime score read, Walnut 26-Scioto 6. But this was quickly changed at the onset of the second half on a Walnut fumble that was recovered by T. Little. Sanders passed to T. Little for the TD. The extra point kick was blocked. Score Walnut 26-Scioto 12.

SCIOTO proceeded to kick after the touchdown. The ball hit the chest of Walnut's Clarence Gray and was recovered by Duke Little. A repeat Sanders-to-Little pass was good for 30 yards and a score.

Then the stage was set for Smith's runs of 32 and 39 yards and an end to the Buffalo hopes of victory.

The game's final score came as a result of another Walnut fumble which was picked up by T. Little. The elder of the three Little brothers ran 45 yards for the score. T. Little ran for the extra point.

Walnut's defenses were led by quarterback Tom Harber, halfbacks Smith and Ronald Tussing and end, Melvin Stepp. Scioto was paced by the Littles, who garnered the majority of the tackles.

Walnut attempted eight passes and completed four. Scioto passed 27 times and completed seven. The Tigers fumbled four times and lost the ball to Scioto each time. Scioto fumbled twice, losing the ball once to Walnut.

Crucial Tilt with Greenfield On Tap for Tigers Friday

Practice sessions for the Circleville Tigers this week will center around the coming trip to Greenfield Friday night for a crucial South Central Ohio League contest.

It will be the first road game of the season for the Tigers and it will be an important one. To date the locals are 2-0 in league play while Greenfield has won its only loop game played.

In a mutual comparison of the two teams, Circleville edged Wilmington, 21-12, two weeks ago. Greenfield trounced the same Wilmington outfit, 12-0, Friday night.

Circleville had the advantage of clipping Wilmington on the local gridiron while Greenfield did the job on the losers' field. These statistics indicate that both teams will be about evenly matched for Friday night's engagement.

CHS WILL be looking for its third SCOL victory and fourth in five starts. Friday night the locals ran headlong into a stubborn Hillsboro crew which gave plenty of trouble before the Tigers were able to emerge with a 10-0 decision.

The Tigers opened the season with an 18-14 verdict over Athens, lost to Columbus Rosary, 6-0, then bumped Wilmington and Hillsboro on successive Fridays.

Greenfield, defending champions of the SCOL, tied Jackson, 6-6 in its season opener, downed Waverly, 8-0, tied Chillicothe, 8-8, then smashed Wilmington Friday.

CHS came out of the Hillsboro test with minor bumps and bruises, although middle guard Marion Morrison suffered a painful pulled muscle which may keep him under wraps most of this week. An absence of the rugged lineman would seriously handicap the Tigers' defensive manpower to stop McClain's vaunted ground attack.

Against Hillsboro, the Tigers

a victory from Stoutsville as Pickaway grabbed a 13-0 first quarter lead. The first marker came on a sustained drive, capped by Anderson's five yard run. Anderson passed to Gail Wolfe for the extra point.

The Indians moved to the Pickaway one yard line where they were held and lost the ball on downs. On the first Pirate play from scrimmage, Petty raced from his own one inch line for a 79 yard score. An extra point kick try was missed.

Stoutsville came to life in the second quarter and moved downfield with a passing attack. Bussert carried the ball over from the one yard line on an end run.

A bad third quarter center on a Pickaway fourth down punting situation forced Anderson to throw a short pass to Petty, which failed to make the necessary first down yardage.

Stoutsville took over on the Pirate 11 yard line. Crites ran the 11 yards for the TD.

Pickaway became rattled and fumbled after the kickoff allowing Stoutsville to recover. On three successive runs Bussert carried for the TD.

Early in the fourth quarter Bussert passed to Crites for a 28 yard TD. Crites passed to M. Guseman for the extra point. Score, Stoutsville 25-Pickaway 13.

The Indians final score came on two 20-yard runs by Bussert and the final yardage was covered on a Crites-to-Guseman pass good for six yards and a TD. Bussert ran for the extra point. Final score, Stoutsville 33-Pickaway 13.

Stoutsville's defenses were led by Donald Guseman, Bussert and M. Guseman. Bussert proved Saturday night to be the hardest driving runner of the league. Combined with the deadly passing attack of Crites, the Indians will prove a formidable foe for Walnut in the final night of league play.

The Pirates defense, which got quite a workout, was led by Anderson, Petty, Richard Dean and Bill Harral. Joe Goeller was also added to the Pickaway running attack.

Next week the chips will be down as Walnut and Darby, both undefeated, will meet each other for a possible league championship. Their game will start at 7:45 p. m.

Pickaway and Scioto will meet at 6:30 p. m. and the final game of the evening will pit Stoutsville against Saltcreek.

Darby and Walnut lead the league with three victories apiece, followed by Stoutsville with two wins and a loss. Scioto is in fourth position with a win and two defeats. Pickaway and Saltcreek are in last place with three straight losses.

Darby 14 19 13 0-46
Saltcreek 0 7 0 0-7
Touchdowns: Walters, 2; Yoakum, 2; Wardell, 1; Vance, 1; Liff, 1; Clifton, 1.
Extra points: Liff, 1; Walters, 2; Wardell, 1; D. Valentine, 1.

Walnut 14 12 0 14-40
Scioto 0 6 12 7-25
Touchdowns: Smith, 6; T. Little, 2; Sanders, 1. Extra points: T. Little, 1; Smith, 2; Stepp, 1; Gray, 1.

Stoutsville 0 6 13 14-33
Pickaway 13 0 0 0-13
Touchdowns: Crites, 2; Bussert, 2; M. Guseman, 1; Anderson, 1; Petty, 1. Extra points: Wolfe, 1; Bussert, 1; M. Guseman, 2.

missed numerous scoring opportunities by not being able to maintain a consistent offense. Coach Tom Bennett said this deficiency will get number one priority in practice this week.

Greenfield's potential seems to center around backs Pat Williams, Don Mossbarger and Dick Craft and veteran end Sam Grooms.

WILLIAMS was McClain's leading ground gainer in the Wilmington test, accumulating 56 yards in 14 tries. Mossbarger went 48 yards in seven carries and scored both touchdowns.

Grooms sparked as a pass receiver, with most of the aeriels being tossed by quarterback Craft.

Siebern Admits He Goofed Badly

NEW YORK (AP)—Norm Siebern, at 25, is a young man with a crewcut who has completed his first full year in the majors. He also is the goat of the fourth game of the World Series, but he won't make any excuses.

Likely as not, there are no excuses to be made.

"OVER" RIGHT TACKLE—Michigan State fullback Dean Look (24) literally goes over the right side of the Michigan line for two yards during the second quarter of their game at East Lansing, Mich. He is stopped by Michigan's Tony Rio (37) and George Genyk (70). With Michigan leading throughout the game, State pounded 97 yards in the dying minutes to tie the game, and missing the extra point, just managed to pull out a tie to tie with arch-rival Michigan.

Braves' Pitcher Today Noted as A Yankee Killer

NEW YORK (AP)—This could be it. The World Series could end today.

The once mighty New York Yankees appear ready to take the count. They've never been as "down" as they are right now. It would appear that Manager Casey Stengel would have to be a miracle man to get them up again.

The stage appeared set too. The pitcher the American League champions must get by today in order to stay alive is that old Yankee killer himself, Lew Burdette. He's beaten the Yankees four-for-four in the last two series.

The Yankees dropped their third in four games to the Braves Sunday 3-0. The loss was in the pattern of the pair they lost in Milwaukee—woeful hitting and leaky fielding.

Warren Spahn, the brilliant southpaw, held the Yankees to two hits Sunday. The day before, they managed four hits in their only winning game. Their team batting average is a microscopic .168. Their fielding percentage is a respectable .988 but it doesn't show the many mental lapses and errors of omission.

Stengel, frankly chagrined over the failure of Whitey Ford, his left handed ace, to register at least one victory in two starts, nominated Bob Turley to pitch the "must" fifth game. The fire-balling right-hander was shelled out in the first inning of the second game of the series last Thursday.

It is not surprising, therefore, that the odds-makers have declined to accept any more Milwaukee money that the Braves will win the series. For today's game, however, the Yankees were favored 13-10.

Yankee left fielder Norm Siebern was the "goat" in New York's loss Sunday. He allowed four drives to fall out of his reach, all of which appeared "catchable." These lapses figured in all the scoring and ruined an otherwise fine pitching performance by Ford.

Norm, 25, normally a good fielder, just had a bad day. The strong sun and the shadow-making third deck behind home plate didn't help him either. In the fifth, he failed to get a jump on Del Crandall's fly and it fell at his feet for a single. No damage.

In the sixth, he got over to Red Schoendienst's long fly to left center, then decided to let Mickey Mantle, who had come over, take it. Neither did. The ball rolled between them for a triple. Shortstop Tony Kubek's error of Johnny Logan's grounder scored Red with the Braves' first run.

In the seventh, after a walk and Andy Pafko's double had put Milwaukee runners on second and third with one out, Spahn blooped a fly to short left. Siebern hesitated, charged in, and stopped. The ball dropped at his feet for a run-scoring single.

In the eighth, Logan sent a routine fly to left. Siebern flipped down his sun-glasses — and lost the ball altogether. The ball

2 Sophomores Leading Browns

Plum, Brown Sparkle As Cleveland Roms

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A pair of sophomores in the pay-for-play ranks — Milt Plum and Jimmy Brown—are threatening to again make the Cleveland Browns the dominant force in the National Football League.

The two youngsters, Plum is 23, Brown 22, have provided Coach Paul Brown's team with an awesome offense comparable to the attack Cleveland was able to mobilize in the days of Otto Graham & Co.

Plum, former Penn State star, passed for two touchdowns and completed 13 of 14 passes for 197 yards Sunday. Brown, an All-America at Syracuse, scored three touchdowns and carried the ball for 129 yards. The result: the Browns second consecutive victory, a 45-12 whacking of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Meanwhile there were a couple of other surprises as the NFL split the second week of the season over two days.

Saturday night, Baltimore's Colts broke Lenny Moore loose for four touchdowns as they displayed a strong attack in rolling up a 51-38 score over the previously unbeaten Chicago Bears. The Cardinals, usually looked upon as Chicago's poor sisters, upset the Washington Redskins 37-10.

In other Sunday action, Philadelphia defeated favored New York 27-24. Los Angeles belted San Francisco 33-3 with the 49ers' Joe Perry setting a career rushing record, and Detroit and Green Bay played a 13-13 tie.

Cleveland was so superior that Plum and Brown sat out the final quarter. Plum's TD passes went to Pete Brewster on an eight-yarder and to Bob Mitchell, for 21. Brown notched his scores on runs of 23, 59 and three yards.

The Colts struck for three touchdowns in the first six minutes to knock off the Bears, undefeated in six exhibitions and the league opener.

San Francisco's Perry gained 44 yards, surpassing Steve Van Buren's lifetime mark by 17 yards. Perry now has rushed 5,877 yards in a nine-year career.

Spahn Sure Burdette To Wrap It Up

NEW YORK (AP)—A year ago, Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette pitched the Milwaukee Braves to a World Series championship over the New York Yankees.

Spahn, a 37-year-old left-hander, won one, and Burdette, 31, a right-hander, won three.

Today Burdette goes out to try to wrap up another series. Spahn already has beaten the Yankees twice. Burdette is shooting for No. 2 today.

"My roommate will finish it up today," says Spahn, who pitched a magnificent two-hit shutout Sunday.

"If Spahn says so, that's right," quips Burdette.

The two Braves get their greatest delight in whipping the mighty Yankees. Next to that, they derive their pleasure from berating each other.

"Certainly we're roommates and good friends," says Spahn, "but as a result of this competition, I think we're good for each other."

In 1957 Warren and Lew set a goal for themselves—a total of 45 victories between them. Spahn won 22, Burdette 20, counting the series, so they fell three short.

Undaunted, they fixed the 1958 goal at a flat 50. For the regular season, Spahn won 22 and Burdette 20 for 42. Even should they get their four in the series they would still be four behind the mark.

"We'll up our aim next year," says Burdette.

Spahn Sure

Burdette To

Wrap It Up

NEW YORK (AP)—A year ago,
Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette pitched the Milwaukee Braves to a World Series championship over the New York Yankees.

Spahn, a 37-year-old left-hander, won one, and Burdette, 31, a right-hander, won three.

Today Burdette goes out to try to wrap up another series. Spahn already has beaten the Yankees twice. Burdette is shooting for No.
2 today.

"My roommate will finish it up today," says Spahn, who pitched a magnificent two-hit shutout Sunday.

"If Spahn says so, that's right," quips Burdette.

The two Braves get their greatest delight in whipping the mighty Yankees. Next to that, they derive their pleasure from berating each other.

"Certainly we're roommates and good friends," says Spahn,
"but as a result of this competition, I think we're good for each other."

In 1957 Warren and Lew set a goal for themselves—a total of 45 victories between them. Spahn won 22, Burdette 20, counting the series, so they fell three short.

Undaunted, they fixed the 1958 goal at a flat 50. For the regular season, Spahn won 22 and Bur-

Ohio Football Menu To Hold Action Aplenty

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Now that the intersectional sector of the Buckeye schedule is completed, Coach Woody Hayes' stalwarts swing into a seven-game big ten slate. Illinois, beaten 15-13 by Duke last weekend, is Saturday's foe at Champaign.

While the Bucks are traveling, the home front fans have plenty of top-flight Ohio college play on the 22-game weekend menu.

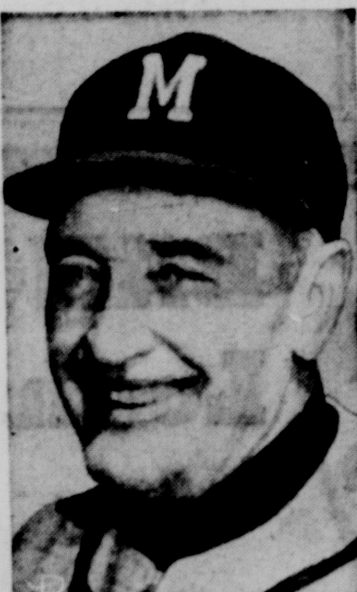

The big one sends Kent State against Miami at Oxford, with the Mid-American leadership hanging on the outcome. Saturday Kent handed Ohio U. its first setback, 14-6, while Miami was suffering its first loss, 22-8 to Xavier in a non-loop event. Kent opened with a 6-0 victory over Xavier, so the Flashes may go in as favorites over the Redskins.

Ohio teams won 7, lost 3 and tied 1 game in interstate play last weekend, and now boast 22 victories, 5 losses and 2 deadlocks against outsiders. The state schools have a 577 to 349 scoring edge.

Wittenberg, all alone at the top of the Ohio Conference with 2-0 after defeating Heidelberg 27-20 last Saturday, meets Baldwin Wallace in a non-league game Saturday—and the B-W team ran up a big 50-22 score against New Haven State.

Heidelberg, Wooster, Ohio U., Denison and Akron were dumped Saturday after winning their first two, and Cincinnati and Miami also bowed for the first time. That leaves only eight of the state's 35 teams with unblemished records, and only Hiram and Ashland without a win or tie.

Among the big games this weekend are Bowling Green at Western Michigan, and Toledo at Marshall in the Mid-American; Denison at Wooster and Heidelberg at Akron in the Ohio Conference; and non-league games which send Xavier against Cincinnati, Ohio U. against Dayton, Buffalo against Western Reserve, and Western Kentucky against Youngstown. Nine of the 22 games are against out-of-state teams.

BORN in Albuquerque, N. M., April 25, 1898, Fred Girard Haney broke into baseball as a second baseman with Portland in 1918. He moved to the majors and played with Detroit, Boston Red Sox and Chicago Cubs before drifting back to the minors. He began managing in minors, with Toledo, in 1935, coached the St. Louis Browns for three seasons and Pittsburgh for three before taking over Milwaukee in June of 1956. Won a pennant for Hollywood and for the Braves. (Central Press)

Football Rooters Disturb Quiet of Oxford Village

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—The Oxford police book showed only one citation—for reckless driving—after the traditional Xavier-Miami football game Saturday.

But it was not exactly a quiet afternoon. Officers said three rooters had been taken from the stadium for drinking and being disorderly. Six others were brought in for ignoring traffic lights.

Chief C. H. Wassenich finally relented and unlocking the cells, told the nine they could go. But nobody counted how many left.

Soil Bank Rate Structure Explained by Local Official

Farmers who may have wondered just how Conservation Reserve annual payment rates are determined for eligible cropland on their farms will be interested in an explanation made today by Marvin G. Steely, chairman of the Pickaway County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Steely pointed out that the individual farm rates are established by the County ASC Committee on the basis of the Soil Bank law and national program regulations set up by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Under the Soil Bank law, the Secretary of Agriculture establishes annual payment rates which give farmers a "fair and reasonable return" on land put in the Conservation Reserve, taking into consideration value of the land for production of crops customarily grown upon it, prevailing cash rentals for such land, and the incentive necessary to contract sufficient land to make the program effective.

Under department regulations, annual payment rates are set on the basis of national, state, and county averages, with the County ASC office determining the rate for the individual farm or part of the eligible acreage on the farm. The national average rate of Conservation Reserve annual payments is $13.50 per acre for contracts beginning with 1959 — an increase from the $10 average previously in effect. In Ohio the average payment rate is $19, and in Pickaway County the average is $20.50 for 1959 contracts.

THE COUNTY committee sets maximum farm payment rates for all farms for which they are requested. Two rates may be set for an individual farm, depending upon the amount and type of land offered for the program. They are:

1. A regular rate which will apply if only part of the eligible land on the farm is put in the Reserve or if all eligible land is put in, but some of it for less than 5 years. This rate calls for the reduction (diversion) in Soil Bank base crops on the farm by the number of acres put in the Reserve at this rate. If land offered for the program is less productive than the average for all eligible land on the farm, this rate will be reduced proportionately.

2. An incentive rate will apply when all eligible land on a farm is put in the reserve for at least 5 years. This is 10 per cent higher than the regular or diversion rate and will apply to every eligible acre on the farm put in the program. This means that there will be only one rate for the farm.

In addition, a non-diversion rate may apply to farms on which only part of the eligible land is put in the program. This rate — 50 per cent of the regular rate — does not call for a reduction in acreage of Soil Bank base crops on the farm.

Under Soil Bank regulations, the overall maximum annual payment that may be made to an individual farmer is $5,000.

Steely said that any farm is eligible to participate in the Conservation Reserve if it has cropland regularly used for cultivated crops or tame hay.

Wednesday is the last day to request a Soil Bank Rate.

10 To Attend Church Meet

Final arrangements for local delegates to attend the circuit convention of Jehovah's Witnesses at the Youth Center, Ohio State Fairgrounds in Columbus, Wednesday through Friday, were made yesterday by the local congregation, according to Daniel E. Grubb, presiding minister.

Virtually all attending from this area are driving to Columbus. Grubb, 134 Rosewood Ave., will stay with friends in Columbus all three days. Others will commute each of the three days. They are Frank Poston, 203 S. Scioto St.; Mrs. Edward Ladley, Route 2; Mrs. Kermit Thomas, Route 2; Mr. and Mrs. Theron Conklin, Laurelville; Frank and Mary Grubb, 1108 S. Court St.; Mrs. Laurence Payne 151 York St., and John Thomas, Route 2.

Some 2,500 are expected the final day when New York district supervisor Angelo C. Manera, Jr., will speak on "The Watchtower Society in God's Purpose." The public is invited and sessions are free.

Hunters Fined In Muni Court

Gaylen Ordway and John Weke, both 23 of Lockbourne Air Force Base, each was fined $10 and costs in Circleville Municipal Court today for hunting violations. Vote on Corn Program Due November 25

Corn farmers will go to the polls Tuesday, November 25, in a special referendum to determine whether the national farm program for corn should be changed, Chairman Steely of the Pickaway Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced today.

The referendum is provided for in the newly enacted farm law, the Agricultural Act of 1958. Voting will be conducted in the commercial corn area, which consists of 932 counties in 26 States, including Pickaway County.

Voters will express a choice between the following alternatives:
1. A new program under which there would be no corn acreage allotments and no designation of a commercial corn area. Under this program, all corn producers would be eligible for price support without any restrictions on acreage. The level of price supports would be 90 per cent of the average corn price received, by farmers during the three preceding years, but not less than 65 per cent of parity.

2. Continuation of the present corn program, which farmers who plant within acreage allotments are eligible for price support at 75 to 90 per cent of parity. The current corn situation would indicate a reduction of approximately 15 per cent in the national corn allotment for 1959 and price support at or near the minimum.

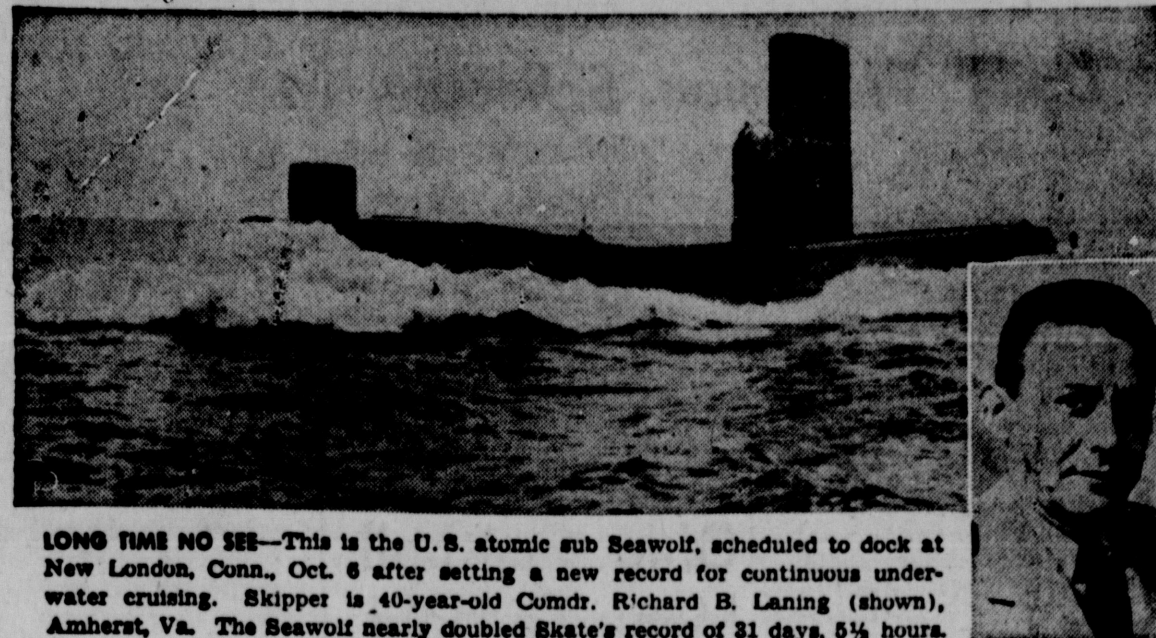

A majority vote of corn farmers casting ballots will decide the referendum. Details as to voting eligibility and polling places will be announced later, Steely said.

20-Mile Altitude Sought in Balloon

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP)—A young jet pilot plans a leisurely balloon journey to the stratosphere Tuesday. He wants to see if he can help man take the vital step over that high threshold into space.

Lt. Clifton McClure will make the jaunt in a capsule which looks like a giant version of one of those the doctor prescribes. This sealed metal container is a replica of the cockpit in which man eventually may soar into space in a rocket. McClure, 25, of Anderson, S.C., will wedge himself into the midst of a myriad of instruments for a ride to about 100,000 feet—roughly 20 miles—for a day-night stay.

Soil Bank Rate Structure Explained by Local Official

Farmers who may have wondered just how Conservation Reserve annual payment rates are determined for eligible cropland on their farms will be interested in an explanation made today by Marvin G. Stealy, chairman of the Pickaway County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Stealy pointed out that the individual farm rates are established by the County ASC Committee on the basis of the Soil Bank law and national program regulations set up by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Under the Soil Bank law, the Secretary of Agriculture establishes annual payment rates which give farmers a "fair and reasonable return" on land put in the Conservation Reserve, taking into consideration value of the land for production of crops customarily grown upon it, prevailing cash rentals for such land, and the incentive necessary to contract sufficient land to make the program effective.

Under department regulations, annual payment rates are set on the basis of national, state, and county averages, with the County ASC office determining the rate for the individual farm or part of the eligible acreage on the farm. The national average rate of Conservation Reserve annual payments is $13.50 per acre for contracts beginning with 1959 — an increase from the $10 average previously in effect. In Ohio the average payment rate is $19, and in Pickaway County the average is $20.50 for 1959 contracts.

THE COUNTY committee sets maximum farm payment rates for all farms for which they are requested. Two rates may be set for an individual farm, depending upon the amount and type of land offered for the program. They are:

1. A regular rate which will apply if only part of the eligible land on the farm is put in the Reserve or if all eligible land is put in, but some of it for less than 5 years. This rate calls for the reduction (diversion) in Soil Bank base crops on the farm by the number of acres put in the Reserve at this rate. If land offered for the program is less productive than the average for all eligible land on the farm, this rate will be reduced proportionately.

2. An incentive rate will apply when all eligible land on a farm is put in the reserve for at least 5 years. This is 10 per cent higher than the regular or diversion rate and will apply to every eligible acre on the farm put in the program. This means that there will be only one rate for the farm.

In addition, a non-diversion rate may apply to farms on which only part of the eligible land is put in the program. This rate — 50 per cent of the regular rate—does not call for a reduction in acreage of Soil Bank base crops on the farm.

Under Soil Bank regulations, the overall maximum annual payment that may be made to an individual farmer is $5,000.

Stealy said that any farm is eligible to participate in the Conservation Reserve if it has cropland regularly used for cultivated crops or tame hay.

Wednesday is the last day to request a Soil Bank Rate.

10 To Attend Church Meet

Final arrangements for local delegates to attend the circuit convention of Jehovah's Witnesses at the Youth Center, Ohio State Fairgrounds in Columbus, Wednesday through Friday, were made yesterday by the local congregation, according to Daniel E. Grubb, presiding minister.

Virtually all attending from this area are driving to Columbus. Grubb, 134 Rosewood Ave., will stay with friends in Columbus all three days. Others will commute each of the three days. They are Frank Poston, 203 S. Scioto St., Mrs. Edward Ladley, Route 2; Mrs. Kermit Thomas, Route 2; Mr. and Mrs. Theron Conklin, Laurelvile; Frank and Mary Grubb, 1108 S. Court St.; Mrs. Laurence Payne 151 York St., and John Thomas, Route 2, Route 2.

Some 2,500 are expected the final day when New York district supervisor Angelo C. Manera, Jr., will speak on "The Watchtower Society in God's Purpose." The public is invited and sessions are free.

Hunters Fined In Muny Court

Gaylen Ordway and John Weke, both 23 of Lockbourne Air Force Base, each was fined $10 and costs in Circleville Municipal Court today for hunting violations. They were arrested for hunting without written permission on the George Adkins farm. They were cited by Clarence Francis, Pickaway County Fish and Game Protector.

Vote on Corn Program Due November 25

Corn farmers will go to the polls Tuesday, November 25, in a special referendum to determine whether the national farm program for corn should be changed, Chairman Stealy of the Pickaway Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced today.

The referendum is provided for in the newly enacted farm law, the Agricultural Act of 1958. Voting will be conducted in the commercial corn area, which consists of 932 counties in 26 States, including Pickaway County.

Voters will express a choice between the following alternatives:

1. A new program under which there would be no corn acreage allotments and no designation of a commercial corn area. Under this program, all corn producers would be eligible for price support without any restrictions on acreage. The level of price supports would be 90 per cent of the average corn price received, by farmers during the three preceding years, but not less than 65 per cent of parity.

2. Continuation of the present corn program, which farmers who plant within acreage allotments are eligible for price support at 75 to 90 per cent of parity. The current corn situation would indicate a reduction of approximately 15 per cent in the national corn allotment for 1959 and price support at or near the minimum.

A majority vote of corn farmers casting ballots will decide the referendum. Details as to voting eligibility and polling places will be announced later, Stealy said.
